

There are the great gates, and the small doors,
Some open always, none of them always shut.

What's inside? we asked, and walked through.
Well, what? we can ask ourselves now. What?

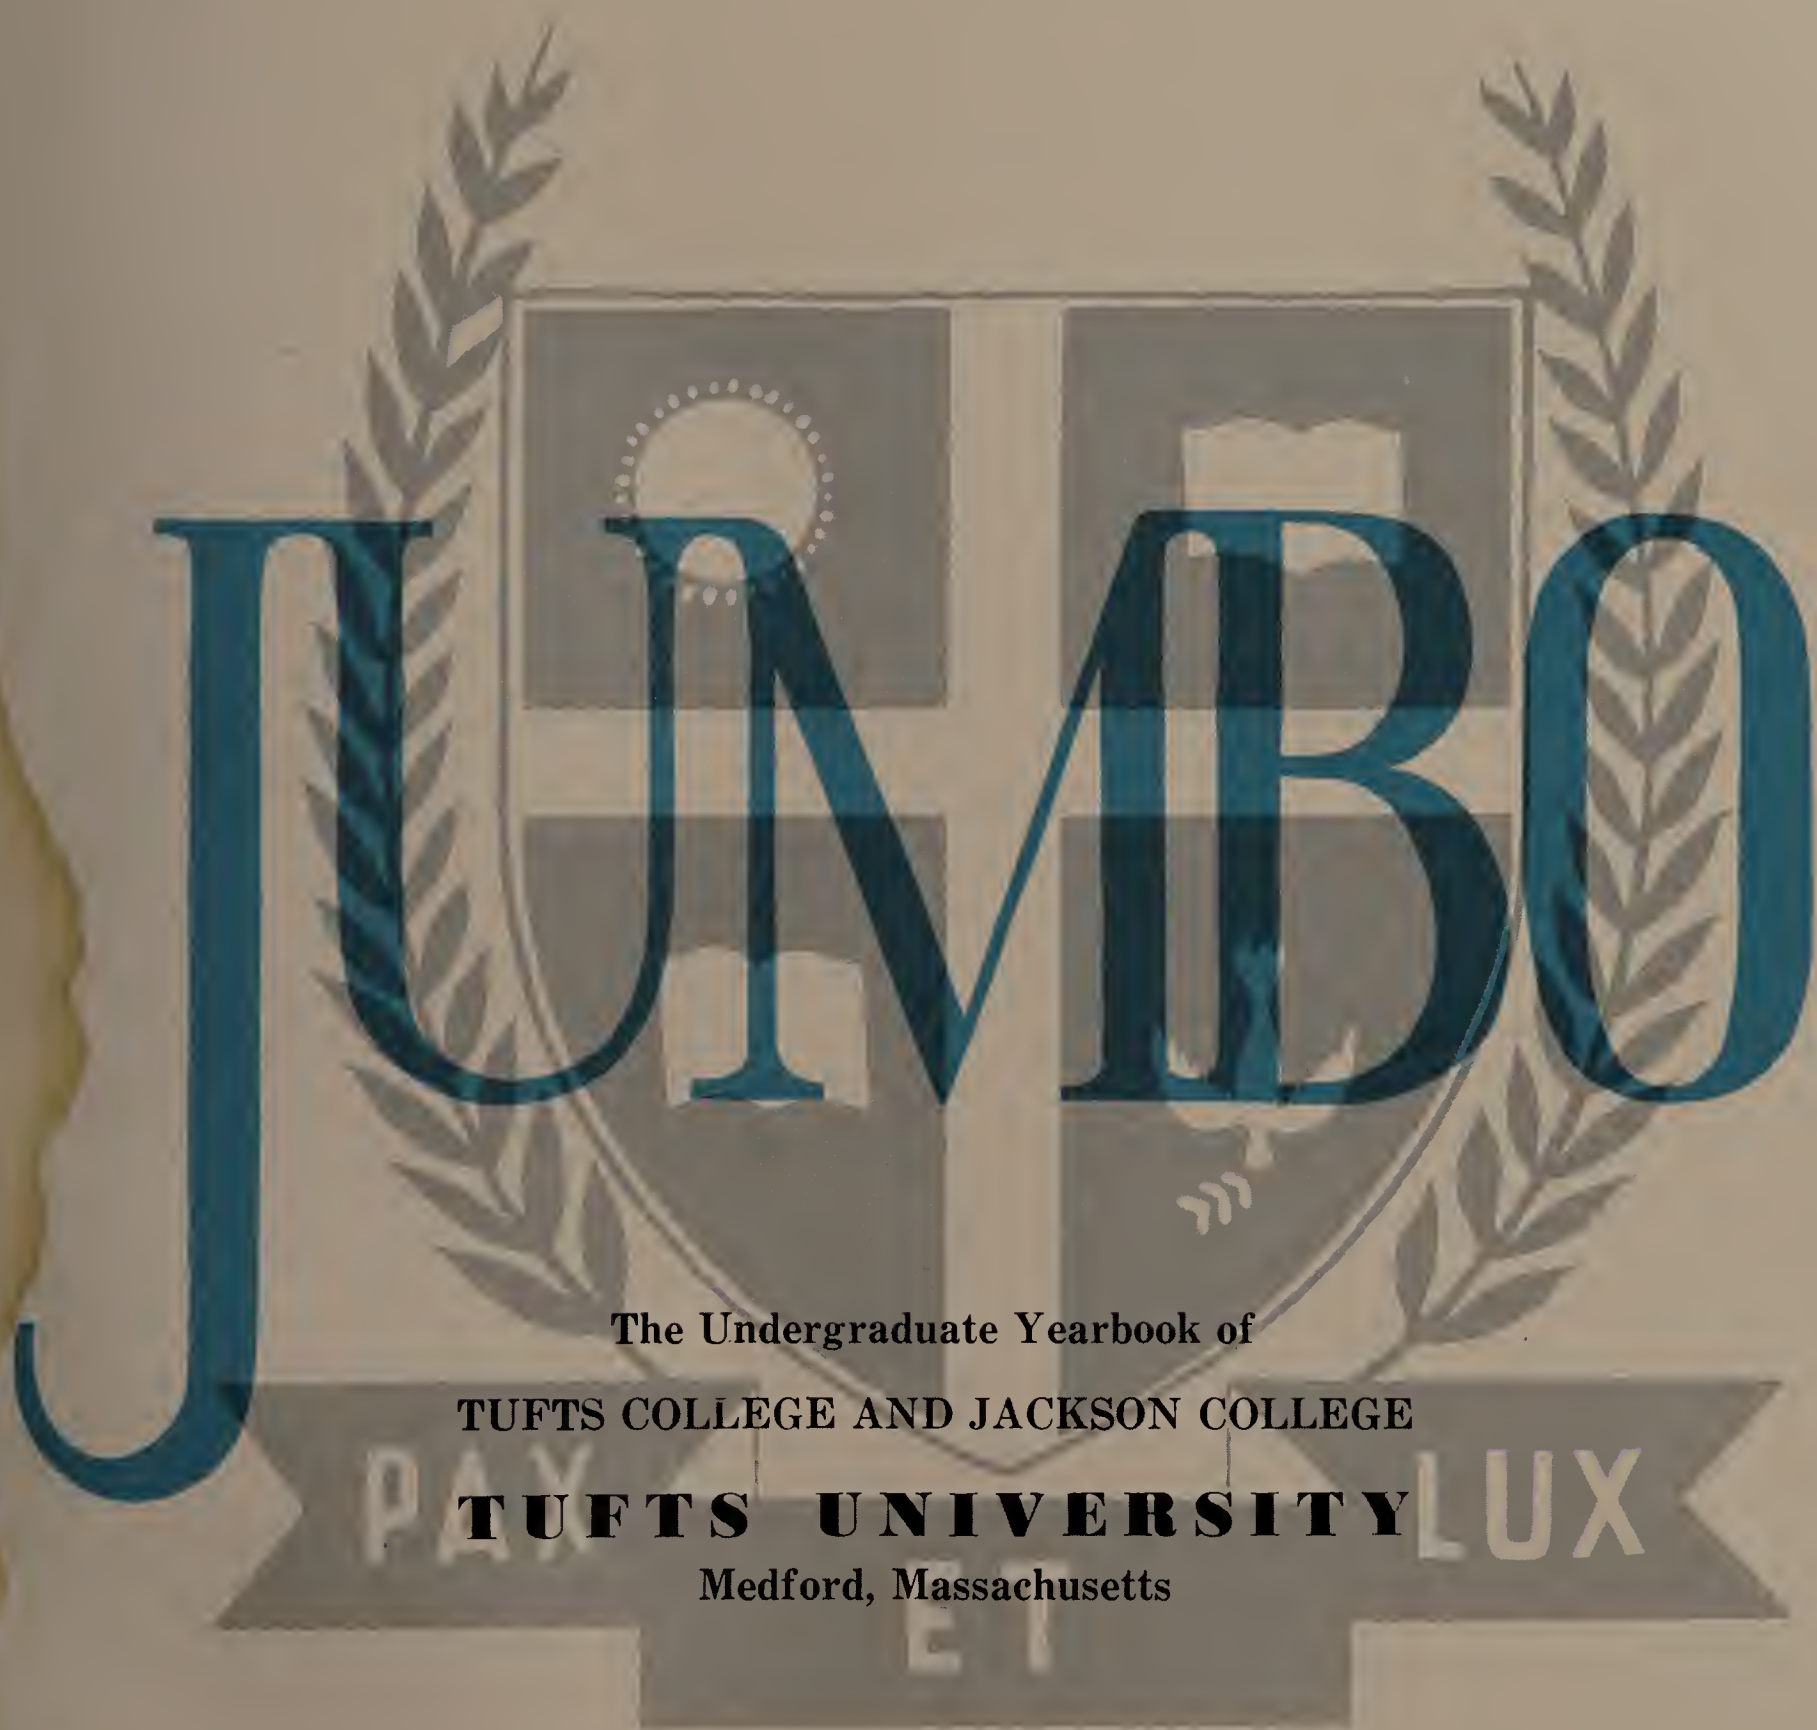

Now that we've opened them all, and gone in,
Come out and gone in these hundreds of days,

We know it was something of ourselves we found,
And that within something of ourselves stays.

There are doors forever; this moment; this page.
In and out the ordinary doors, the great gates,

We have passed. Next year, for the next comers,
It will be something of ourselves that waits.

The Undergraduate Yearbook of

WORD

from the editor

Dear Classmates,

Here is the 1957 Jumbo Book—our yearbook. There is much of the usual in it, but there are also some very special things, including new Holmes poems, photos a la “Life”, and more.

Last fall we asked John Holmes if he would write some poems especially for our yearbook, and he said he would. He has put into words the feelings most of us have had about college, and done it in a very clear, exciting, near and important way. We are very proud that he did it for this Jumbo Book, and want to say our thanks here, in print, so that it will be at least as permanent as the book.

If you wondered “what’s this for?” at the September Registration when you were asked to put down the five things you felt you would remember most about Tufts, please turn to pages 8-37. Almost all of us said we would remember many of the same things: football, Mayoralty, dances, exams, getting to know people; but it also seems that our memories of Tufts will be as varied as we are, and we have tried to show that too. And as an “added attraction” we have used three full-color photographs; this is the first time since the Centennial Jumbo Book that color printing has been used.

Because we believe that a yearbook should show more than it talks about, we have tried to keep the picture content high and the word content low; we think we have succeeded. In fact, this is probably the longest single piece of writing in the entire book.

Sincerely,

Deirdre E. Giles

ADVERTISEMENTS

CONTAINED HEREIN . . .

DR. MARSTON S. BALCH:

an exacting educator, a thorough

Dedicated to Doc . . .

Dr. Marston S. Balch is the head of the Department of Drama and Speech and is co-director of the Tufts Arena Theater. To those who lack the opportunity to know him better he appears solely as a man of culture—precise, detached, impersonal; a scholar and an academician. He is of course all these, but more; for those who do know him have learned that there is a store of warmth and understanding in him as well.

Dr. Balch has contributed to many fields outside of Tufts. During the last war he was chief of French press and air analysis, chief of the cable desk of Allied Psychological Warfare, was decorated with the Medaille de la Reconnaissance, and was made Chevalier of the Legion d'Honneur. He is the author or co-editor of several books, a member of myriad speech, theater and language associations and a contributor to American, British and French periodicals. He is currently on the play-choosing committee of the Boston Arts Festival and was a panel member in the "Waiting for Godot" discussions this year.

As a teacher and director, Doc (he is always called Doc) is a perfectionist. He requires a student to do his best—and better. His "detachment" is actually the tendency to reserve commendation until it is deserved. He applies this constant demand for improvement to himself as well, a fact which perhaps above all wins him the respect and admiration of everyone associated with him.

It is an honor to dedicate the 1957 Jumbo Book to such a man.

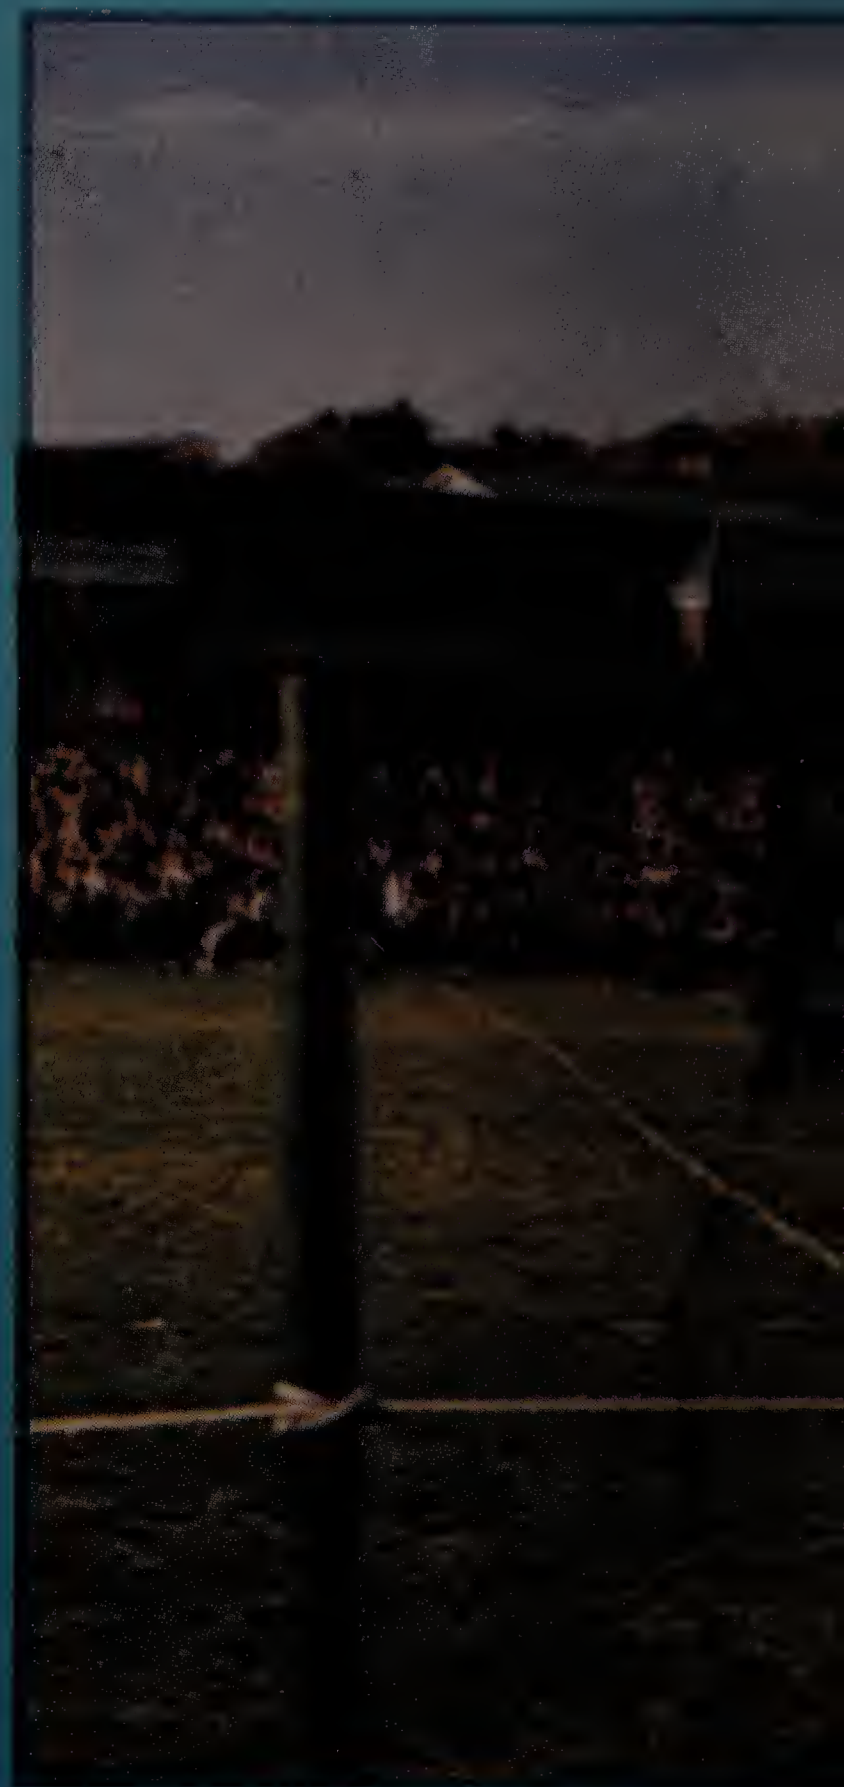

scholar, a man of the theater

In that unique four year period of time which is called college, a group of people—in our case almost 500 people—are bound together by common work, common activity, common experience. We, the class of 1957, are no different as a group from any other college class, but because we are also individuals, we have gone through these four years in an individual way. Perhaps from an outside point of view we have been acting, thinking, and doing the same things in the way of all other college generations; but we know differently, and we have always known it. It's just that until now we have not stopped to think about it.

Now is the time, with Graduation coming up fast, to think about it; to stop and look back, not only at one year but at all the years that we have spent together — in Tufts, on the Hill—and remember together the things we said we would remember. And maybe, too, those that “we never knew we knew” . . .

In college fall means year Homecoming was football, and Tufts is no exception to that rule. This something special—we trampled Trinity, long time rivals

Trinity was good, but Harvard was better:

a beautiful day for a triumphant win

Mayoralty! What Tufts grad will ever forget three Springs of madness and missed classes?

On the academic side there was Registration at Cousens

(and the crowds at the Bookstore for days after)

"The Light on the Hill" —

always the heart of Tufts for us Tufts WAS

“the friendly college”

We met people in class and lab . . .

. . . at the dorm

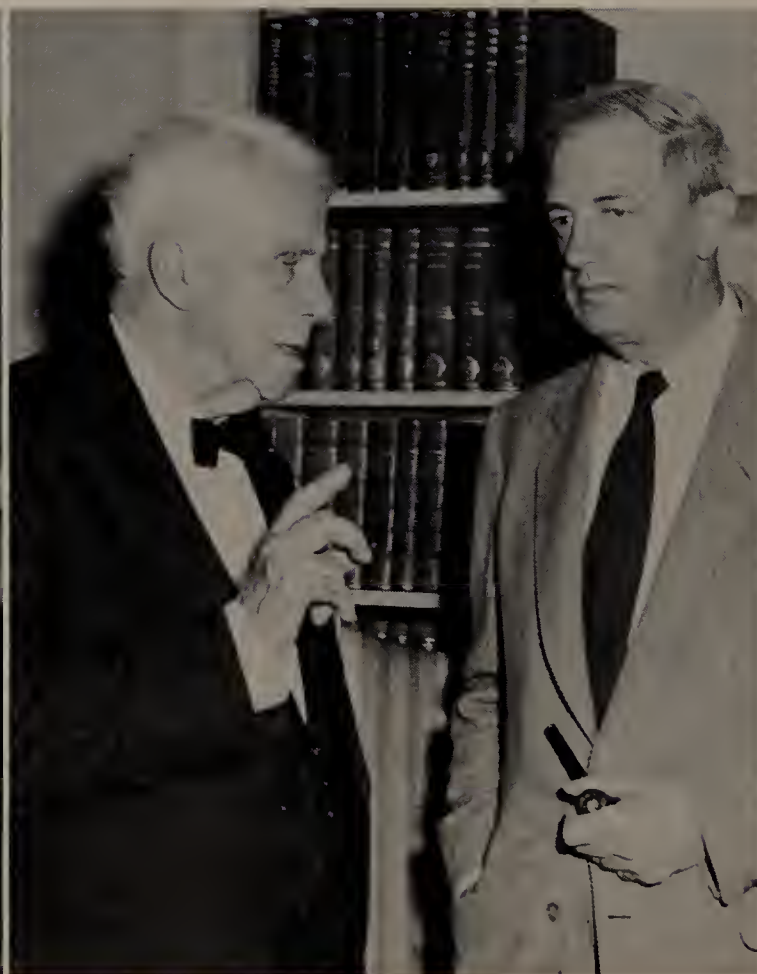

and Kursaal (or should we say Pine Room?)

and of course, at Hy's – who have been
"serving" Tufts for 25 years

Remember Freshman Chapel . . . and how many cuts did YOU have? The times when it was really filled were always for Robert Frost . . .

Class, chapel, and the two Tufts “watering places”: we were all there at one time or another during these four years

Jumbo . . . and the Harvard Stadium

(and what we did there)...and the countless little things we may never think about again

We will remember how Tufts looked and the buildings that made it look that way

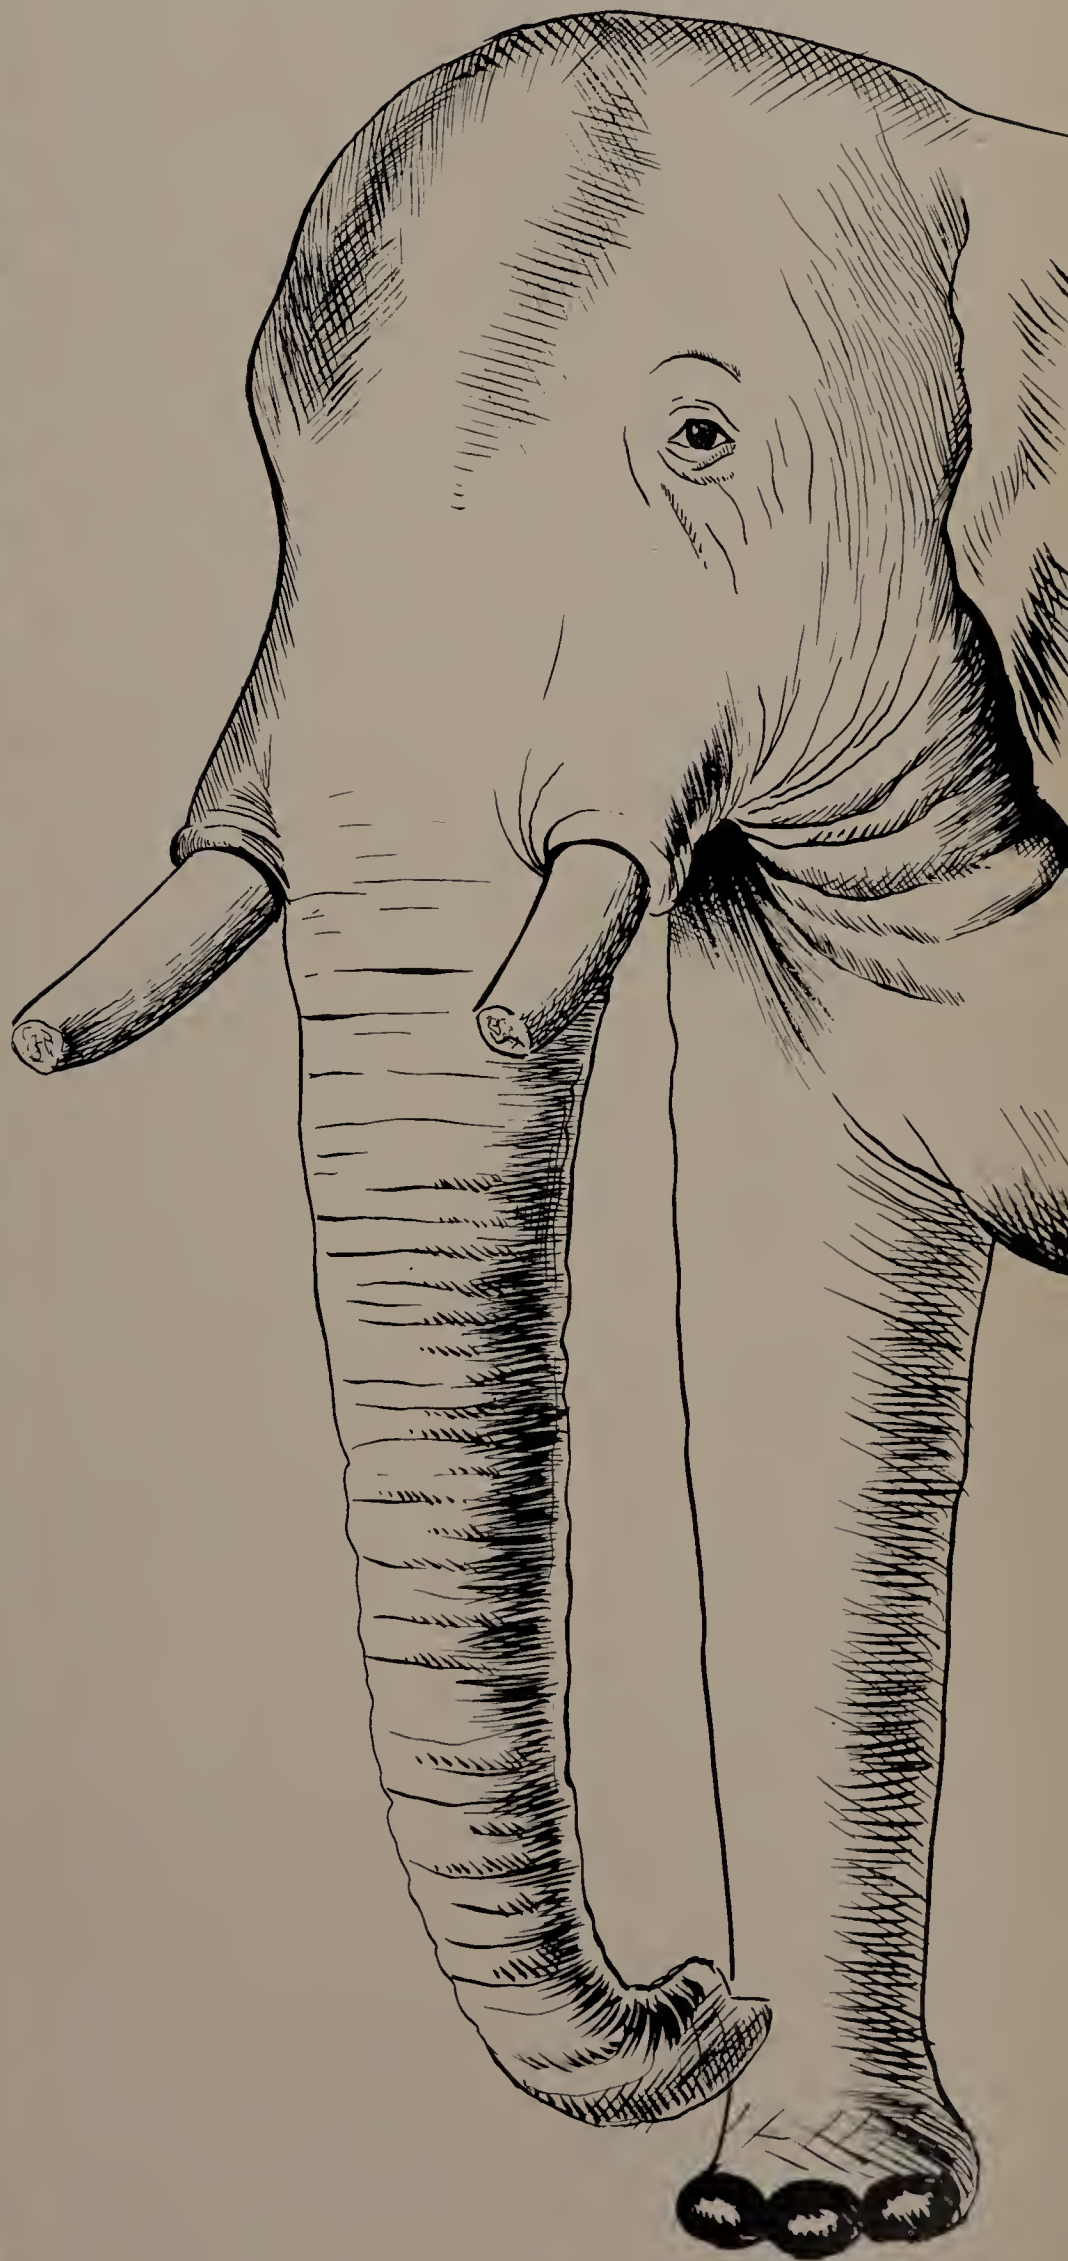

Sometimes

they surprised us, if we stopped to look . . .

Occasionally we settled down to study (dug our trenches, so to speak), but it didn't last long

...because there were always meetings-or something-to take up our time instead

And then,

there was always the Hill . . . in any season

Winter,

Spring, Fall . . . we will remember Tufts

The professorial trees stand along the campus paths,
Or shade our windows, or arch over us in spring,
Wise, full-boughed, doctor-of-philosophy trees,
Master-of-science elms that know everything.

And here and there deans in maple, trustee oaks,
Chairmen and their departments in full leaf.
Ours being a New England college, the president
Is an elm, our tallest, of our timber chief.

Some of the trees are older than the professors,
And some professors deeper-rooted than trees.
When the wind blows—and how the wind blows here!—
It's that collegiate sound we hear in the breeze.

Lectures in green, conferences in red and gold—
We listen to tree-sound while time weaves.
Between them and among them we find our way,
Guided by leafy voices and the voices of leaves.

“There will be no cuts in this course. Assignments will be handed in on time. The final exam will take at least a full day’s preparation.” . . . “Personally, I don’t care whether you come to class or not—if you can pass the exams and do the papers, you’ll pass the course.” Professors are fantastic. No two alike. One minute you wonder how they can talk so long on one subject, and the next you’re snowed under a flurry of facts, quotes, and cross-references. To all those who wonder how their profs have managed to teach them, under varying conditions and in the face of determined resistance, we dedicate this section . . . And to the professors.

Education

The growing popularity of Education courses and the excellent placement service of the Education department make this a busy group at Tufts. Doctor Marshall and Professor Wellington are well known, especially by the many student teachers whose classes they have visited.

English

The English department of Tufts is the largest undergraduate department having full-time instructors in the Liberal Arts School, Engineering, and School of Special Studies. The department has been under the chairmanship of Doctor Harold H. Blanchard since 1927.

First row, left to right: Mr. Harold G. Ridlon, Mr. David E. Philips, Dr. William M. Milton, Mr. Albert F. McLean, Jr. Second row, left to right: Dr. Wisner P. Kinne, Prof. Newman B. Birk, Dr. Kenneth O. Myrick, Dr. Harold H. Blanchard, Chairman; Dr. Paul H. Flint, Prof. Genevieve B. Birk, Prof. John Holmes. Back row, left to right: Mr. Henry P. Coolidge, Mr. Stephen J. Bennett, Dr. Sylvan Barnet, Dr. Charles H. Vivian, Mr. Donald G. Abbott, Mr. John E. Higgins.

Sitting, left to right: Mrs. Mary R. Salisbury, Dr. Albert D. Ullman, Chairman. Standing, left to right: Dr. H. Kent Geiger, Mr. Richard Salisbury, Mr. Robert Sokol.

The Sociology department headed by Dr. Albert D. Ullman added two new members this year. They were Mr. Salisbury and Mr. Sokol. An extensive research project dealing with television and its effect upon the individual was conducted by the department, headed by Mr. Sokol and Dr. Geiger.

Psychology

Standing, left to right: Dr. Albert D. Ullman, Prof. Ezra V. Saul, Prof. Paul Coleman, Mr. Sampson, Prof. Bernard Harleston, Prof. John Coules, Prof. Joseph Wulfek. Seated, left to right: Prof. Alice Palubinskas, Dep't Head: Leonard C. Mead, Prof. Dorothea Crook, Prof. Donald De Voe.

This year, the Psychology department witnessed many changes both in the curriculum and on the faculty. Courses were rearranged and new ones were added among which were Perception, taught by Dr. Coules, one of the additions to the department, and Psychology of Individual Differences. Also added to the department was Dr. Harleston who replaced Dr. Hall who retired from active teaching last year.

The School of Religion has gone through its transitional period and is now a graduate school for the training of liberal ministers. Dean Hersey is the Dean of the Crane Theological School. Under the school's guidance, the student ministers conduct weekly services in Crane Chapel.

Drama and Speech

Doctor Marston Balch has headed the Drama department for the past twenty-one years. Under him, Miss Ruth Elder, and Dr. John Woodruff, this very vital department is the core of the theatrical life at Tufts. Under their supervision, one act plays are presented in the fall, and the three act "Studio" productions are seen in the spring. All of these plays are directed by Tufts students.

In May the Department presented Eliot's "Murder In The Cathedral" as a dramatic reading; it was directed by Ruth Elder.

Philosophy

Courses in Philosophy are open and encouraged for students majoring in all fields. Various courses are offered ranging from Philosophy of Literature, Religion, Human Nature, Science, to the most recent course covering the cultural history of India.

Prof. George B. Burch and Ass't Prof. Dallas Laskey.

Classics

The Classics department this year, introduced a new course on "Classical Art and Archeology," taught by Mrs. Wyatt. Dr. Van Johnson is the head of the department. The student gains a knowledge of the intrinsic value of the ancient cultures studied in this course.

Government

Upon the retirement of Dean George S. Miller, the chairmanship of the Government department passed to Professor James V. Elliott. Added to the department staff this year was Professor Gibson who taught Gov't I. Mrs. Sweet substituted for "Pop" Houston who was on leave of absence to attend the Olympic games in Melbourne, Australia as national president of the N.C.A.A.

Mr. Sweet, Prof. James V. Elliott, Chairman, Mrs. Burch.

Economics

The Economics courses are designed to equip the students with techniques of analysis which should prove valuable to him in his life's work, and also enable him to give intelligent consideration to questions of public policy. Professor Lewis Manly is the chairman of the department.

History

After Doctor Ruhl Bartlett transferred all his teaching to the Fletcher School, Professor Russell Miller stepped in to head the department at Tufts. Mr. Parkman has taken over such courses as History of the United States, and American Foreign Policy.

Romance Languages

Headed by Dr. Gifford, the Romance Languages department offers courses in French, Spanish, Italian, and Russian. These courses attempt to develop the ability to read the language, to express oneself clearly, orally and in writing, and to understand it when it is spoken.

Sitting, left to right: Dr. Elliott King Shapira, Dr. Seymor O. Simches, Dr. Ruth Whittredge, Dr. George H. Gifford, Chairman.

German

An accurate comprehension and effective use of the language as it is written and spoken today is the main concern of the German department, headed by Professor William K. Provine. This was Professor Provine's fifth year as head of the department.

Mathematics

The Math department welcomed back Professor Aaboe and added Mr. Robert Katz. Professor Clarkson is the department head. A Math club was organized this year for the first time and has had several guest lecturers to increase its popularity.

Biology

The Biology department is certainly one of the oldest and most popular departments on hill. More students major in Biology and Biology-Chemistry than any other department. Headed by Doctor Paul Warren, the department is very instrumental for students seeking a career in the biological and medical sciences.

Geology

The Geology department is headed by Doctor Nichols and offers a variety of courses which consider the structure, history, and development of the earth and its inhabitants as revealed in the rocks. Also teaching in the department is Doctor Charles Stearns, Dean of the College of Liberal Arts.

Air Science

Marion Lloyd, a Jackson freshman, became the first woman in the history of the Tufts A.F.R.O.T.C. to take an Air Science course. The program is designed to give future officers practical training for their Air Force careers.

Left to right: Captain Thurber, Colonel Hauck, Captain Pride.

Music

The expanding Music department, under Mr. K. MacKillop, presented two musicals this year, "The Devil and Daniel Webster," and "La Vie Parisienne." It also presented its annual Christmas and Spring concerts. The season closed with the traditional Tufts Night at the Pops.

Art

Through a cooperative arrangement between Tufts University and the School of the Museum of Boston, students may elect certain courses at the school in creative work for undergraduate credit. These courses include Drawing, Painting, and Ceramics. Russell T. Smith is chairman of the department.

Naval Science

The N. R. O. T. C. plan at Tufts and at many other civil educational colleges combines aspects of scholastic and military training for men working toward a commission in the Navy and Marine Corps. Captain Asserson is the commanding officer of the Tufts N. R. O. T. C.

Physics

The department of Physics deals with all phases of science of the external universe, provides a fundamental background of engineering, chemistry, biology, and philosophy which is increasing in this scientific age. The department is headed by Doctor Knipp.

Dep't Head: Dr. Knipp, Prof. Schaeps, Prof. Tessman, Prof. Malenka. 2nd Row: Prof. McCarthy, Prof. Combes, Prof. Hendrickson, Prof. Champion.

Chemistry

Doctor Wilson was appointed Chairman of the Chemistry department succeeding Dr. C. Baker who died in 1954. Since that time, Dr. Paul Doleman served as acting chairman of the department until the appointment of Doctor Wilson. The department offers thorough basic training for engineers and for those interested in pursuing a medical career.

Chemical Engineering

Professor Leighton B. Smith is chairman of the Tufts University department of Chemical Engineering. Generally, this is a small department because of the intensive program of study it requires in Chemistry and Engineering.

Prof. Walter Pavelchek, Prof. Leighton B. Smith, Prof. Kenneth A. Van Wormer.

Civil Engineering

Professor Frederick Weaver is chairman of the Civil Engineering faculty. Professor Weaver has long been associated with Tufts, having been appointed professor of Civil Engineering in 1919. The faculty works in close conjunction with the Engineering Graphics Department.

Mechanical Engineering

The curriculum of the department teaches fundamental principles, both practical and theoretical, that underlie the work of the mechanical engineer, and keep him in touch with the latest professional and technical developments in the field.

Electrical Engineering

The Department of Electrical Engineering provides training in the broad field of Electrical Engineering, emphasizing both the theoretical and practical aspects of the subject material. Students combine classroom work with practice in well-equipped laboratories.

Even if we knew at the time, saying, This is a time I will remember,
It would not be the strong time, the long times, not even the rattled days, the everything-went-wrong-today times.

It might be much committed, built up big,
and big bulletin-boarded,
And still not be the gold time, the have
and hold, the good old told long after, and told, and told, and told-again time.

It's probably the anytime, the many times,
the time and time again time,
The no particular time at all and I can't-remember-when time,
that you'll remember best, some after-ten, now-and-then time.

Some day a coat recalls, or by the way you wore your hair, or trees bare,
But, not a he and she were there, not a
who and who was there time,
a really-care time, and I remember-exactly-where time.

The times that we remember longest are the times we never knew we knew.
The in-the-meantimes, the before and after teens times, the seen and lost, the tick click quick, the in-between times.

SENIORS

Freshman Year, 1953-54

Having gone through four short, but loaded years, we look back to find what we have done and undergone. Freshman year started with Orientation Week. For the first time, we entered Cousens gym, and heard President Wessell's welcome speech. The following weeks were hectic—Lucky Pierre Murdock's "in absentia" skit by a majorless Mayor's Council, conferences and tests. Dr. Nichol's immortal speech, gave us the extra-curricular impression of Tufts. But we got our academic impressions, too: the need for fortitude and tolerance at registration—hours of waiting raised our endurance high enough to go through all the Bio I's, English I's and History I's. We went to table after table in search of we were not sure what, read the instruction sheet time after time hoping to grasp its strange logic, and left three hours later in hopes that we had registered for the right courses.

Then began hazing, the boys with beanies, and the girls with green bows and hair in pin curlers. Pray For Rain came on a crisp night, guaranteed to freeze any water, and much was hurled down on unwilling heads. The boys retaliated and founded the Cloak and Dagger to seek revenge on the all-mighty sophs. The girls went bunny-hopping across the campus with waste baskets, sweat-shirts and rain clothes. Our first Homecoming game was a victory over Williams, 12-9.

Our first elections produced the following officers: Presidents: Ed Farley and Frances Franchi; Vice-Presidents: Jordan Pepper and Charlene Harvey; Secretaries: Graham Wren and Norma Pereira; Treasurers: Gunner Rose and Barbara Clark; Marshals: Tom Cahill and Helen Gifford; Class Historian: Usha Nand.

We had just started studying for second term when Mayoralty was here . . . and this time we really saw Tufts in glory and grandeur. Each Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday the co-eds met at the AEPi and Thete. All the poster parties, skits and parades were new to us. Bucky "P. T. Barnum" Spurr promised popcorn, beer, and cokes with genuine circus entertainment at each party.

Hall; and the construction of Alumnae and Sweet Halls.

This time we extended a welcome to the freshmen and took them through hazing, the rope pull, Pray For Rain Night, and held them close to Frosh traditions. But we got our share too: stolen S & S paddles . . . the riots in Carmichael third floor . . . we were really provoked by the Frosh impertinence.

Normie Wright, Dave Wells and Ralph Thompson were the pride of our class on the football field. This year, Nat Settimelli, '55, was the first Jackson Jumbo Book editor. And the IDC finally got permission for girls to visit in men's dorms. October sixteenth, Parents Day, was to become an annual tradition on the campus. That month, past "Prexy" Carmichael visited us, and the unveiling of the Carmichael portrait took place.

The class officers were: Presidents: George Fee and Helen Gifford; Vice-Presidents: Jordan Pepper and Julie Kedian Bowering; Secretaries: Haskell Kassler and Norma Pereira; Treasurers: Gunner Rose and Charlene Harvey Hoar; Marshals: Edward Farley and Joan Dartnell.

The second semester began with Winter Carnival. Skit Night, Ugly Man Contest, Carnival Ball, Sock Hop and Jazz Concerts, sponsored by Mayor Bucky Spurr and his Council, kept us weeks back in our work. Faculty cooperated and entertained us—Dean Emery and his drums, Dean Jeffers, Doctor Shapira, and Mrs. Pal. The former Alpha Xi Delta and Zeta Psi were winners of the skits. The Carnival reached a lively end to the Jazz of Le Roy Perkins and his Excalibur Jazz at the Kursaal—and of course, this was a "snowless carnival." In March, a petition was filed by President Wessel before the Commonwealth of Massachusetts for Tufts to become a University. This year, too, the University education cost went up.

As Sophomores, we had a Sports Day in February at Birchcroft Lodge in Jaffrey, N. H. We also held a tag day to cheer up the cheerleaders' uniforms—and the Easter Egg Hunt party for the underprivileged children of Cambridge.

CLASS HISTORY

Marty "Zapata" Katz's parties featured Spanish-Mexican spirit with bull fights, jazz bands, tortillas and beer. Mayoralty and the dance ended an enthusiastic year for us.

On returning, we found many changes on the campus. Carmichael lodged boys, Hodgdon, girls; the ROTC building no longer in the Kursaal; the old Kursaal moved to the "pine room" in Curtis

In May, we went wild as Audrey "Annie Oakley" Hallberg, AOPi, defeated "Captain?" Dillihunt, Zeta Psi, to become the first female, junior and off-Hiller Major in Tufts history. The campus was transformed into a wild west frontier filled with cowboys, Indians, and covered wagons and a world of Roman legions, secret squadrons and a Questionmobile. The Zeta Psi buggy was found in front of the Hodgdon Hall front door, and kept many of the early eaters from their coffee and doughnuts. Finally, on May 13, Annie Oakley took on the traditional Top Hat for the following year.

Junior Year, 1955-56

The class officers were: Presidents: Norman Wright and Joan Dartnell; Vice-Presidents: David Wells and Julie K. Bowering; Secretaries: Carolyn O'Connor and Elizabeth Bergeron; Treasurers: Haskell Kassler and Audrey Saperstein; Marshals: Thomas Cahill and Margaret Harsch.

Many things had happened over the summer. Plans were made to renovate Ballou Hall; Norinne Jacobus of our class had entertained GI's abroad; and above all, we had all come back full of enthusiasm to celebrate the junior year of our college career.

With the help of Tufts' top gridster, Normie Wright, and Dave Wells and Paul Abrahamian, we defeated Bowdoin, Wesleyan, Amherst, Rochester, Upsala, but lost to Williams and Trinity. And we discovered a great player—"Zipper" Thompson. We'll never forget this year's Homecoming game. Rain, rain, and more rain. The game resembled water polo more than football, but the drenched crowd of 1000 braved the elements and cheered the team to a victory over Rochester.

It was this semester that the Tufts Radio Station finally took shape even after having trouble with cables and the maintenance department. New rooms for the sororities took the girls to Curtis Hall. Director of Admissions Curtis was proud to show the soon-famous color film, "How One College Educates." Was this what Tufts really looks like? In December, we had the first University convocation. The theme was "The Role of the Small University in Higher Education." Students, guests, friends and neighbors witnessed Roy E. Larsen, President of Time, Incorporated, with 200 delegates from American colleges and universities, in procession, discussion, speeches and presentation of honors.

Spring was back again. The Jackson girls wore their junior jackets at the banquet in March. We had our Junior Dinner Dance at the Sherry Biltmore—one of our best class functions.

And then our class sponsored the first Ivy Weekend, instead of Junior Weekend. It started with the Spring Sing; a jazz concert by Oscar Peterson and the Tiger Town Five on Friday night; and then the Prom on Saturday night. The last day, the picnic was rained out, and we ended up at fraternity houses . . . free beer . . . etc.

Mayoralty was here again. This time it was Tom "Nero" Denney and George "Nasty Nick" Deemys. We were back among poster parties and all the rest, and Nasty Nick won the Top Hat at the close of a feverish campaign.

The year ended in many excitements. Tuition was raised again, and the Weekly's big headline caused some comment about it.

At the Junior Class Day exercises, a new award was announced, and Frank Cogliano, '56, was the recipient of the first "Mr. Tufts" Dean Miller award.

We were hit hard this year by the cruel accident that took two of our classmates and one senior—Charles Lund, Gemma Cifarelli and Fred Hill—just before Christmas vacation.

Senior Year, 1956-57

Finally, we were in our last year of college. The year which was one of the most memorable in many respects. We started the year with a successful football season: the defeat of Harvard, the burned T on the Harvard field, our campus red-painted with "Veritas," and our 5-1 season. Co-captains Normie Wright and Dave Wells, and "Zipper" Thompson brought glory to our class and the University.

The administration abolished the mid-term exam schedule, but we still managed to have two on one day, as always.

This year, we held a mock presidential election for the first time, with a landslide victory for President Eisenhower.

The class officers for the senior year were: Presidents: Edward Kelly and Lois Almassy; Vice-Presidents: Courtney Bourns and Carol Sudalter; Secretaries: Gerry Higgs and Nancy Cutcliffe; Treasurers: Al Woodruff and Audrey Saperstein; Marshals: Dennis Gavanias and Polly Cummings.

The officers and Senior Activities planned an exciting year. In October, we had a clam bake at Pocohontas Tavern, as part of the Harvard weekend—plenty of lobsters, clams and kegs of beer rolling down the hill. Mid-Winter Dance came next, held at the Statler. Then with February, came the fourth snowless Winter Carnival. All wondered where the Demys gold mine was when they saw the two band dance.

Before long, we were giving final touches to our last college activities. The agenda was packed full; Baccalaureate service on June 2, Senior Week Activities, Tufts Night at the Pops, then our Class Day and Senior Prom at the Somerset Hotel, Alumni Day on June 8, and the climax, June 9th, Commencement Exercises.

Four memorable years of college life . . . and now we all wonder when we will meet again to recall the '53 to '57 years.

L A S S

The times have changed, or rather, we've changed time.

We're not Einsteins, but we know time is relative.

They used to say, There's only twenty-four hours a day,

And a man can do only so much in a day and
no more,

And you only live once.

We've changed all that.

With us it's only a matter of how much more Than a man can possibly do in one day we can do.

The forty-eight-hour day is a thing of the past.

And we're elasticizing time three-dimension-ally.

We had to come to it. The student council knew that.

It's all a matter of the engagement-book.

In fact,

That's what the student council Committee
on Time

Is working on now, if they can find the time:
An entering class shall consist of four hundred

Engagement books. Each book shall have students

Attached to it, four, maybe as many as seven,
To properly fulfill the day's full engagements.

One student goes to classes per book, the other six

To meetings, class meetings, dorm, club, fraternity,

Rehearsal, team practice. Each book is represented

On the student council, which plans three-volume

Engagement books for next year, and after that . . .

ACADEMIC HONORS

The honorary biology society of Tufts, Lambert-Kingsley, strives to promote fellowship, to stimulate student research, and to provide a forum for the presentation and critical discussion of original work in the biological sciences. Founder of the Easter Biological Conference, L-K participates annually in the Conference and in April, through the Biology Open House, undertakes to show students what is being done at Tufts in the biological sciences.

LAMBERT-KINGSLEY

ALPHA KAPPA DELTA

Alpha Kappa Delta, the national sociology honor society, is an organization whose members are selected on the basis of their academic achievement. When the Greek words from which its name is derived (Anthropon Kata-manthanein Diakonesein) are translated, its purpose is expressed—"to know man and to serve him" by furthering an interest in sociology by forming a closer alliance between students and faculty. The projects sponsored by Alpha Kappa Delta are primarily academic in nature such as the symposium on the topic "Social Work" that was held early in December, 1956.

K. Geiger, P. Sokol, A. D. Ullman, U. Nand, A. Polcari, Pres.; E. Pearce, A. Weir, J. Straley, R. White.

Pen, Paint and Pretzels, Tufts' undergraduate dramatic society, entered its 47th season with the production of "He Who Gets Slapped." "The Rivals" was the second play, and "The Midnight Cry," a manuscript play, was the third. In producing a new play, Three P's followed a long-standing decision agreed on when the society was founded, but which has been only rarely followed.

PEN, PAINT AND PRETZELS

The "theater dinner party" was an innovation of last year when a special performance and dinner was given to those students attending the Ivy Ball; even the cast got into the festivities. This year the completion of a new constitution, work on the student-directed Studio Productions, and plans for a "Theater Awards" night (or, Oscar Comes To Tufts) occupied the members' time. And occasional strike parties.

Middle Hall, the English Club of Tufts University, is organized for all students and faculty who are interested in literature and writing. The most notable speaker of the year was Robert Frost who gave his annual recitation of poetry in Goddard Chapel. Another interesting visitor was Ben Benson, a mystery writer, who told the group how a mystery novel is contrived. Other highlights of the year were the Christmas Party and meetings featuring student and faculty readings.

MIDDLE HALL

THE RODIN SOCIETY

The Rodin Society is now in its 15th year as an informal discussion group. Realizing that it is impossible for a student in four years to gain a general background in all fields of the arts and sciences, Rodin, with the aid of speakers from the Boston area, attempts to satisfy the intellectual curiosity of its members.

G. Cornell, Pres.; D. Giles, J. Hazlitt, Vice-Pres.; C. Verrill, Sec., Vice-Pres.

The French Club at Tufts was organized to provide an exchange of information and ideas about France and French culture. Monthly meetings have included speakers, film and slide programs, and an annual Christmas party. Dr. Seymour Simches has been the advisor this year.

M. Keenan, Sec.-Treas.; N. Garcia, Pres.; T. Devlin, Vice-Pres.; E. Turpin; M. Lord.

FRENCH CLUB

TUFTS FILM SOCIETY

The Tufts Film Society brings to the Hill screen plays, documentaries, and experimental films, both American and foreign. Occasionally, experts in the film industry are invited to speak at the showings. In the past year, the club has brought to the campus films such as The Death of a Salesman and The Glenn Miller Story. Begun in 1948-49, the Film Society has continued to present fine motion pictures that cannot be seen at the local theaters.

J. Clabault, Treas.; W. Nicholls, Vice-Pres.

Psi Chi, the national psychology honorary society, purposes to advance the science of psychology, to stimulate interest on the part of psychology majors, and to acquaint others with the subject. At Tufts, throughout the year, current topics in psychology were discussed, and at open meetings, students were informed about job opportunities in the field. Ending the year was a panel discussion featuring several prominent psychologists.

S. Gallivan, Sec.; E. Hiltz, Pres.; S. Anderson, Treas.

PSI CHI

PRE-MEDICAL SOCIETY

The purpose of the Pre-Medical Society is to further the interests of its members in medicine, dentistry, and the biological sciences, and to aid them in attaining their goals. In the Society's monthly meetings, prominent speakers well known in their respective specialties give illustrated talks on various aspects of medicine.

Front: A. Delman, E. Smith, D. Gormley, Cor. Sec.; W. Kinder, Pres.; N. Smith, Rec. Sec.; J. Grasso, Treas. Back: J. Leader, K. Blotner, R. Nystrom, R. Casella, T. Swift.

The Young Republicans Club strives to bring enlightening programs in the field of political affairs before the campus, and actively supports the Republican Party and its candidates in local, state and national elections. In conjunction with the Young Democrats, the club sponsors panel discussions. Memorable was "Foreign Policy as an Issue in 1956" with professors Bartlett, Imlah, and Burch. The Club was also active in the mock election held this fall in conjunction with the National Presidential Election.

B. McEnteggart, Sec., Vice-Pres.; F. Lockheimer, J. Pitman, B. Calhoun, R. Natalie, Sec.; E. Melanson, Pres.; W. Nicholls, J. Clabault, Treas.

YOUNG REPUBLICANS' CLUB

YOUNG DEMOCRATS' CLUB

The Young Democratic Club represents the Democratic Party at Tufts University. One primary objective is that of practical political participation, campaigning for local, state, and national candidates. The Club also seeks to keep political interest high by bringing speakers to the campus and by cooperating with other students groups which try to encourage an interest in public affairs.

W. Starr, N. Silverman, D. Friedland, M. Spiegel, C. Wilson, N. Peck, R. Schwartz, Chairman.

BAND OFFICERS

A. Johnson, Vice-Pres.; C. Waite; R. Poppele, Pres.; J. Bouton, Sec.; J. Palmer, Man.

The Tufts University Band carried out an ambitious and successful program throughout the year 1956-1957. The fall football appearances were highlighted by the Harvard Stadium debut and the overnight trip to Rochester—culmination of a vigorous fund-raising campaign. The size and quality of the year's band made possible a combined formal concert with The Amherst College Band in February. Spring activities included the campus Pops Concert, and The New England Intercollegiate Band Concert, conducted by Arthur Fiedler, here at Tufts.

TUFTS UNIVERSITY CHORAL SOCIETY

First Row: A. Alexander, P. Gross, J. Libby, T. Cross, J. Fournier, P. Bourque, P. Heinrich, C. Tillinghast, D. Williams. Second Row: M. Habosian, E. Turpin, Treas.; R. Kaplan, J. Keller, F. O'Brien, D. Antoniolo, S. Taintor, A. Sinicrope, P. Raspe, B. Zimmerli, G. Gallivan, D. Warren.

The first major presentation of the year for the Music Department was Stephen Vincent Benet's "The Devil and Daniel Webster." It starred Ed Kelly, Van Youngman, Patty Bourque, Earl Wasner, and a cast of thousands. The sets and special effects of this show were matched or even surpassed by the gay production of Offenbach's comic opera "La Vie Parisienne." As always, the chorus, under Professor Kenneth MacKillop, was the mainstay of both shows. Two concerts and a folk music festival in the spring balanced this successful year.

The Devil and Daniel Webster

M. Ross, T. Arai, V. Wyman, G. Heath, C. Gains, B. Visco, M. Park, C. Stevens, J. Atwater, A. Meek.

SKINNER FELLOWSHIP

During 1956-57, Skinner Fellowship, the student group of Crane Theological School, was in a state of transition. The increasing percentage of graduate students, who are married and living off Hill, presented a new set of needs to which the Fellowship attempted to adapt. It decided on less frequent but more worthwhile meetings. Christmas and spring parties, and the Radcliffe Lecture by The Reverend Howard Thurman of Boston University highlighted the year.

D. Jennings, B. Park, Sec.; D. Cummings, J. Shoop, Pres.; J. McCormick, S. House, J. Hansen, G. Cornell.

RELIGIOUS COUNCIL

In its third year of existence, the Religious Council is functioning as an aid to the religious organizations in planning and carrying out their programs. Sponsoring an observance of Brotherhood Week, the Council unites all the individual clubs in a single series of programs, thus enabling the organizations to better serve the college community.

Front: S. Scherr, J. Parker, J. Marshall, C. Tenbrock, P. Banks.
Back: S. Lavan, G. Puerschner.

UNITY CLUB

The biweekly meetings of the Unity Club are open to all Religious Liberals. During the first semester, the club had a variety of speakers and discussions. For the second semester it sponsored a series of programs devoted to a discussion of "The Challenges to Liberalism — External and Internal." The club is affiliated with the national organization, Liberal Religious Youth, and is advised by Professor John Holmes.

J. Porter, S. Lait, A. Delman, K. Blotner, L. Golden, Cor. Sec.; R. Kane, J. Newman, Pres.

HILLEL

Hillel, the Jewish religious organization on the campus, is sponsored by the B'nai B'rith.

Its purpose is to provide the necessary religious, social, cultural, and personal factors which are an inherent part of any Jewish community. It attempts to accomplish these goals through the media of Sunday morning brunches, guest speakers, discussion groups, folk-dancing, and social affairs with other colleges.

NEWMAN CLUB

The Tufts Newman Club has, by sponsoring days of recollection, a retreat, and other religious activities, become one of the largest and most active organizations on campus and had helped many Catholic students fulfill their religious and intellectual needs. On the other hand, social activities included occasional dances, a hayride, intramural athletic teams, and a winter weekend in Vermont.

During 1957, the first Masses ever offered at Tufts were celebrated by Fr. Walter Gouch, Catholic Chaplain at Tufts, and the Newman Apology, the club's first printed newspaper has appeared regularly.

WESLEY CLUB

Methodist students of the college community are served by the Wesley club. Through weekly supper meetings, the club offers a source of inspiration and friendship.

Students participate in conferences on all levels, and are active in the choir and school of the Hillside Methodist Church. Goals of the club are "discussion, fun, singing, inspiration, and service."

CONGREGATIONAL CLUB

Early in the year the Congregational Club of Tufts joined with a group of college age young people of the North St. Cong. Church in Medford to form one organization. Programs of varied nature planned by Rev. Barnes, advisor to the group have been stimulating and unique. Aspects of religion such as miracles and reincarnation have been topics of discussion. In addition to hearing recordings of several outstanding religious leaders, the Congregational Club has been privileged to have as speakers Dean Hershey, Crane Theological School, the Honorable Adam Clayton Powell, Jr. of Washington, and Miss Corcoran of the Zion Research Library, who addressed the group on the Dead Sea Scrolls.

CANTERBURY CLUB

The Canterbury Club is an organization for Episcopal students. Activities include bi-weekly Sunday night meetings in North Hall Lounge, Wednesday morning communion services in Crane Chapel, also held twice a month, and occasional cookouts and supper meetings.

The 1956-57 program, centered around problems of the Christian community, featured speakers and discussions on alcoholism, mental health, family problems, and juvenile delinquency. Another excellent program this year was a talk by a missionary couple on experiences during three years' work in Alaska.

ORTHODOX CLUB

The Eastern Orthodox club is intended to establish contact among the Orthodox students of the University. To this end it organizes lectures and social functions. The lectures during the past year were intended to find solutions for those religious problems confronting our students. Among the social functions were, the Tea given in honor of the foreign students at Tufts, several informal get-togethers with other Orthodox clubs in the area, and group attendance to the various churches in the area.

The most important function of the club this year was being host to the fifth Annual Conference of New England Orthodox Students.

INTER-VARSITY CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

The Tufts Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship is a non-denominational group of Christians who are bound together by their common allegiance to Christ, and their steadfast faith in the Bible as the infalliable Word of God. The group meets twice a week for Bible study, and daily for prayer. The purposes of the organization are to encourage fellowship among Christians, and to witness for Christ on campus. The group also has several socials during the year.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The Christian Science Organization of Tufts University welcomes all to attend the weekly meetings on Tuesdays at 4:30 P.M. in Crane Chapel. The meetings feature reading from the Bible and Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy. Following the readings, testimonies, experiences, and remarks about Christian Science are shared. This organization participates with other such groups throughout the United States.

BAPTIST STUDENT FELLOWSHIP

The Baptist Student Fellowship, as the Tufts Chapter of the Baptist Student Movement, in cooperation with the programs of the Massachusetts Baptist Student Foundation and the First Baptist Church of Medford had a fine second year on campus. Monthly programs featured outstanding academic and religious leaders such as Dean Delmar Leighton of Harvard and Pres. Herbert Gezork of Andover Newton Theological School. In addition, a weekly program was held in conjunction with the Sunday Evening Club at First Baptist as well as a fine variety of social events. The faculty advisor is Prof. Kasper Myrvaagnes, and Rev. Ralph Reynolds of First Baptist Church is Minister to Students.

NAVY DRILL TEAM

The NROTC Drill Team is a relatively young unit, formed in the spring of 1955. It has a two-fold purpose; to represent precision drilling in actual practice here, and to represent the Tufts Navy Unit whenever it is called upon for an appearance.

BATTALION STAFF

The function of the Battalion Staff is the conducting of drills and reviews, with perfection and precision as their objective. The Staff is conducted with efficiency and order in their hours of practice on and around the Tufts campus.

AIR FORCE DRILL TEAM

The Air Force ROTC Drill Team set a goal of National Championship for 1965. As a precision marching instrument, the Drill Team last year was defeated only by Dartmouth College, in the intercollegiate competition held at Trinity College. The Drill Team's appearances at the fall football games added an extra attraction to the season.

ENGINEERS COUNCIL

The Engineering Council of Tufts University acts as the coordinator between the undergraduate departmental clubs, the faculty, and the business concerns seeking prospective employees. At the meetings held by the Council, various problems concerning engineers are discussed and methods of solution are found put into practice.

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF CIVIL ENGINEERS

The Tufts Chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers is a junior branch of the National Society. To familiarize students with their field, prominent lecturers address the members, and frequent field trips to labs and construction projects are sponsored. This year, the seniors were taken on an inspection tour of the New Massachusetts Turnpike by the Turnpike Authority. The Society stresses the advantages of professional registration with the American Society of Civil Engineers.

AIEE-IRE

The Tufts joint chapter of the AIEE-IRE attempts to acquaint Electrical Engineering students with the latest professional and technical developments in their field.

In monthly meetings, students heard prominent lecturers present new aspects in electronic research and development. Members themselves demonstrated accomplishment in the spring Engineering Open House.

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF MECHANICAL ENGINEERS

The American Society of Mechanical Engineers at Tufts offers opportunity to members for learning more about their field through bi-monthly meetings, professional conferences, and field-trips to nearby plants and companies associated with engineering. The faculty works closely with ASME, helping members to plan their careers.

D. Miller, Sec.-Treas.; J. Cox, Pres.; R. Farkas, Vice-Pres.

A. I. C. H. E.

The Student Chapter of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers helps acquaint prospective engineers with their chosen profession. Besides the monthly meetings where informed speakers lecture, members view motion pictures descriptive of the various phases of chemical engineering and take trips to industrial organizations such as Esso Refinery and Monsanto Chemical.

J. Pitman, N. Hilar, J. Parker, Sec.; C. Schneider, W. Hobey, Pres.; C. Poppendieck, R. Wood, Vice-Pres.

CHEMICAL SOCIETY

Development of a professional spirit and a pride in chemistry, presentation of guest speakers who are experts in various phases of the science, and provision of opportunities for students of chemistry are among the purposes of the Tufts Chemical Society. At its monthly meetings, the society endeavors, by means of lectures, films, and discussions, to present a broader view of chemistry than is possible in the classroom. The society, which is a Student Affiliate Chapter of the American Chemical Society, also sponsors the annual Chem Open House.

WTCR

WTCR is the Tufts University Radio Station radiating from the "dungeons" of Braker Hall. Since April 13, 1956, the voice of the Tufts Radio Workshop has been on the air. The Station now boasts approximately 40 members, and is striving to fulfill its dual purpose as a campus radio station and as a radio workshop for interested students.

SPORTS CAR CLUB

The purpose of the Tufts Sports Car Club is to bring together students with a common interest — sports cars. The meetings feature sports car racing films such as the annual Sebring or LeMans events, discussions of sports car activities and highway safety, and exchange of interesting pertinent magazine articles or photographs. They travel as a group to the various races held in the area, and also sponsor their own or participate in other college's driving events and safety road-co's. Car ownership is not a requirement for membership.

Under the leadership of Joan Dartnell, President; Sally Collier, Vice-President; and Meredith Blodgett, Secretary-Treasurer, the Jackson Student Council strove to "promote the welfare and interests of all students of Jackson College."

Orientation Week—Parent's Weekend — money raising campaigns to establish the scholarship fund—the activities file and the summer job file kept-up-to-date—revision of the guest rules—extension of calling hours—a 12:15 becomes a 12:30 on Friday nights—teas for the house committees and the house mothers—Freshman Assembly programs—an All-Jackson Meeting—all these and many other activities made this year's Jackson Student Council an efficient and helpful organization.

TUFTS STUDENT COUNCIL

Tufts Student Council is the governing body for the undergraduates of Tufts University. It respects at all times the primary responsibilities and the authority of the more specific student governing bodies of the University.

The primary purpose of the Council is to represent the opinions and interests of the undergraduates, to unify and work for more cooperation among the students, the faculty, and the administration in campus affairs, and to supervise all organized and unorganized activities. The Council further tries to assist these groups with maximum effectiveness, and to insure that they are conducted in the best interests of the students.

In 1951, the Nursery Training School of Boston, founded in 1922, became affiliated with Tufts University. In 1954, the School moved to the Tufts Campus. Simultaneously, the procedure was begun to rename the School in honor of the first director, Dr. Abigail Adams Eliot, and the first chairman of the board, Mrs. Henry Greenleaf Pearson. In the fall of 1955, it formally became the Eliot-Pearson School.

The School now has five dormitories on the campus. The Student Council of the Eliot-Pearson School is officially represented on the Tufts Student Council, on the Off-Hill Council, and on the Women on Campus League. One of the School's most thrilling achievements was placing second in the 1955 Christmas Sing, which was our first entrance in this type of competition.

Our affiliated program, with liberal arts and professional courses, is designed to educate teachers to understand and teach young children with ability and helpfulness that matches their love for them.

TOWER CROSS

Tower Cross, the Senior class honorary society, recognizes the members of the class who are outstanding in campus activities. To the end of extending and increasing the Tufts University spirit, Tower Cross helps in running pep rallies, and sponsors the Christmas and Spring Sings. This year, a jazz concert was sponsored before the homecoming game.

IVY SOCIETY

The Ivy Society, the Junior honorary society, was founded in 1901 as the Ivy Leaf Society for the purpose of breaking down factional lines in the University, and has continued in this function since that time.

In the interim, the duties of the Society have increased so that it now has published the Ivy Book, planned the entire Ivy Weekend including the Junior Day exercises, softball game, the Ivy Ball, jazz concert, and picnic in May; conducted the Campus Chest Drive; and ushered at Freshman Assemblies, Academic Honors and other formal functions on campus.

SWORD AND SHIELD

The primary functions of the Sword and Shield Sophomore Honorary Society are to promote class spirit and integrate new students into the college community. In the past few years, the Society has published a Freshman Directory, a useful means of becoming acquainted with the new students. Sword and Shield has now encompassed further ground both by acting as guides and ushers at school events and as Freshman Counselors. Once, from having been just a tradition, the Society is now a working part of the student body.

CLASS OFFICERS

The Tufts and Jackson Senior Class held a clam-bake for all seniors in October of 1956. The bake was held at the Smith picnic area in Lynnfield, Mass. The attractions that helped to gather the 250 people that attended were free beer, clams, lobster, corn, salad, and of course, lots of fun.

The Senior Midwinter Dance was held in the Georgian Room of the Statler Hotel in January, 1957, and featured Freddie Sateriale's music. This too was greatly enjoyed by the 500 or so seniors that attended.

A coffee breakfast sponsored by the joint Senior classes was held in the early spring. This coffee preceeded the Sunday morning services at the Chapel.

The traditional moonlight cruise commenced Senior Week. Class Day was held again Friday morning, June 7, with the prom following that night in the Louis XIV room in the Hotel Sommerset, music being provided by Freddy Guerra. After the Class Day exercises on Friday, there was a buffet for the seniors on the President's lawn.

S. Stone, Pres.; N. Peterson, Student Council; R. Bucknam, Vice-Pres.; R. Belin, Sec.; P. Clarey, Treas.; G. Gallivan, Student Council.

The first function of the Junior Class this year was "The Battle of the Bands" jazz concert held in Jackson gymnasium in January. The evening featured several jazz groups from the college campus with a keg of beer being awarded to the winner. The concert was well attended, the collection of talent on the campus proved impressive, and the function as a whole was considered successful.

The Junior Class also sponsored its annual Junior Dinner Dance in February which was held at the Hotel Somerset in the Louis XIV Ballroom. The dinner consisted of roast half spring chicken with all its trimmings, and the dance featured Jack Edwards and his orchestra. Tickets could be purchased for $6.50 per couple.

The plans for Ivy Weekend went smoothly and proved to be a memorable and enjoyable one for all. Held in May, the weekend included a roaring jazz concert, the prom, and a special party. A beach party with the annual faculty-student softball game rounded out the long-to-be-remembered weekend.

NINETEEN HUNDRED AND FIFTY-EIGHT

CLASS OFFICERS

The main objective of the class of 1959 this year has been to save money so that we will be able to hold big affairs in the next two years without going into debt. We have had several magazine drives for the veterans hospitals and also made some extra money by showing movies on campus. The Jackson sophs have also done a good deal of philanthropic work this year. The Sword and Shield has done an outstanding job in their annual traditions work and in running the two blood drives. Even though we have not had many class functions, the president believes that this year has been a good "building year" for our class.

An unusually large and spirited Freshman class began the fall year of 1956 by showing almost unexcelled enthusiasm in its struggle against the Sword and Shield. This spirit continued throughout the year and was especially noticeable in the support given to the varsity sports and to the freshman teams.

Following the election of the class officers in December, they lost no time in forming a Freshman Representative Council whose main function was to serve as a go-between for the class and its officers. This Council consists of fraternity, dormitory, and off-hill representatives. The class also showed its interest in social activities by cooperating with the Sophomore and Junior classes in presenting the Ivy Weekend which is one of the major functions of the college year.

NINETEEN HUNDRED AND SIXTY

TUFTS WEEKLY

The Tufts Weekly, conducted through the 1956-57 season by Tom Baer and Ron Brinn, is a student paper which offers its staff experience in gathering and editing news, setting up dummies, writing heads and assisting in the technicalities of printing. The paper is free of all censorship and is always open to new talent.

The past few semesters have shown considerable changes in the Weekly. From what many students called "a glorified bulletin board," the paper has evolved into a more mature effort. Controversies were met squarely by the editors—even sought after in some instances—and the editor did not hedge significant campus issues. Among the controversial issues discussed in the pages of the revitalized Weekly were play reviews, the honorary societies, sororities, tuition, and fraternity discrimination.

In addition to providing interesting reading to its public, the Weekly gave birth to an ageless Tuftsman named Len Krensche. Len symbolized the "smoothness" and gay abandon dreamed of by the overworked and care-worn student; his words will be a potent reminder of the thinking of the class of 1957.

T U F T O N I A N

It has been said, by just about everybody, that great oak trees from little acorns grow. We don't know about that; the only thing we ever planted was a dead bird, and nothing came up.

We do know, however, that great writers from little pencil-pushers grow; the student of today, putting nouns and verbs together because he has an ego to feed, becomes the mature writer of tomorrow, good because he has something important to say and he says it skillfully.

Skill is acquired. Nothing but God and experience can give a man something to say worth saying, but skill comes from work, and the will to work comes from encouragement. The Tuftonian exists to encourage.

Maybe this year, or last year, or next year, The Tuftonian planted or will plant a small acorn, and tomorrow or next year, if what everyone says is true, there will be a great oak.

JUMBO BOOK

The work on a yearbook is divided into periods of time. The first period is known as "getting the blankety-blank senior section in," and consists of Rusty tearing her hair out trying to get everyone in the senior class photographed, and at the same time getting the "biographies" in order and complete. Along with this we have Pat and Bernie and Lynn and Bill struggling through the Departments of Instruction, and Herb getting his famous candids in Ballou.

For a while Metcalf West 03 was the center of operations, but just before Christmas, "Open House" at the Curtis Hall Publications Room, affectionately known as "The Pub," began. From then on most of the work was carried on there.

The next period of time came right during finals, and if you noticed glazed looks from Kevin, Marty, Matt, and Tom, you know that it wasn't only from studying.

The third, or "Help! Deadline Saturday!" period was the most exciting (spelled exasperating, or exhausting—or both). The entire week of February 10-16 was spent in "the Pub.", with occasional breaks for Kups of Kursaal Koffee, et cetera. Nance McAdam was the star of this bit, as she, Kevin, Tom and Sheila slaved over hot typewriters and quietly cursed groups who didn't show up for pictures. And each day, Dee wondered if the opening section would really get done. The race to get the last pictures and write-ups in, the search for several missing items, and "Mr. Ryan's" question at Student Council—plus Don Willson's helpful hints as to what to do with the Book all added something (we won't say what) to the "final hours." Jim C. and his staff had already sold all their ads and options and were sitting back looking infuriatingly complacent as the rest of us worked on. Now, if the proofs are okay and that party for Doc comes off, the whole thing will have been worth it. And Mr. Abbott will be very pleased.

HE WHO GETS SLAPPED

The first play this year was Andreyev's "He Who Gets Slapped," directed by Dr. Balch. A slow-moving but penetrating study of a disillusioned European gentleman who takes refuge as a clown in a small circus, it starred Gardner Tillson and introduced Peggy Dunphy as a young bareback rider with whom "He" falls in love. The setting was full and colorful, and was soon playfully dubbed "cluttered realism" by cast (of thousands) and crew.

THE RIVALS

"The Rivals" by Sheridan was the second show in this year's series and directed by Otto Ashermann, it proved a lively one. Guest director Ashermann made a strong impression, and led his cast, which included Jackie Zollo, Ted VonKamecke, Van Youngman and Pris Foley, to a well-balanced exhibition of Style acting. Brilliant costumes and a virtuoso set, designed by grad student Edwin Grove, Jr., as well as the polished performances made the show enjoyable to all who saw it.

THEATER

Three P's kicked off their 47th season with a musical Pretzle Night. Written by "veep" Gardner Tilson and directed by "prexy" Bob Hewson, the show was a take-off on the Broadway-type musical and featured Jackie Zollo as "Marilyn Mansfield."

Led by a strong executive council (Hewson, Tillson, White, LaFrance, and Youngman) Three P's had its usual series of sparkling meetings, devoted to deciding on: plays, committees, plays, directors, and plays. Traumatic experiences with Studio Productions (final score: 1 down, 2 on), finishing the Constitution, and where to hold the beach party added to life among the thespians, or "Gross! It could yet happen to you!"

Since reactivation in 1948, the Tufts Mountain Club has been a vital group of outdoor-minded students. The club centers its activities at their lodge in Campton, New Hampshire. One of its main functions this year was its skiing expedition between semesters—a welcome relief from all those finals!

YACHT CLUB

Students congregate at the Tufts Yacht Club on spring and fall afternoons to sail, study or just relax. On weekends the club is the scene of intercollegiate regattas and Tufts plays host to teams from the East and Midwest. During the past season our team either won or defended three major trophies. The club's facilities are excellent, with fifteen boats always ready. Highlights of the social season is the annual spring cook-out.

PRE-LEGAL SOCIETY

The Pre-Legal Society provides information and advice for prospective lawyers through trips to law firms, legislatures, and law schools. During the past year, Paul Perito devoted his efforts to recording the principles of the club in a new constitution. Data on financial aid was compiled by Marty Roth who contacted over fifty law schools to obtain a scholarship file for entering law school applicants. Activities concluded with a trip to the Ames Competition at Harvard.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

The Carmichael Chapter of the Future Teachers of America voted to grow up along with other national college chapters, and they are now a member of the Student National Education Association. The aim of the chapter is to aid in the development of preparing teachers for their future careers. The meetings have been designed as discussion groups about topics of general progressive knowledge at the novice level. Guidance, Traditional versus Modern Methods, What is Student Teaching are some of the selected topics. In April, in conjunction with the National Education Association, several foreign students joined the group in a forum, discussing their comparative educational systems.

INTERNATIONAL CLUB

The International Club, even though established only two years ago, is now enjoying one of the largest memberships among the Clubs on Hill, with representatives from forty-eight different countries. During the past year, the memorable functions have included a cook-out, dances, a nationality Christmas night, banquets with unusual foreign dishes, and many other informal get-togethers. In a nutshell, the purpose of the club is to attain a good integration of the foreign students with their American classmates and the faculty, and to provide a meeting place for the exchange of ideas among the people of the various cultures represented.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

The International Relations Club of Tufts University features specialists in the varied fields of international relations. Guest speakers are drawn from the Tufts faculty and from eminent world authorities. The December meeting entitled Symposium on the Soviet Union brought to the community a distinguished panel of Philip Mosely, Hans Morgenthau, Brezenski, and Kent Geiger. The International Relations Club invites your interest and active support of university lectures and discussions which concern everyone.

DeMOLAY

DeMolay is an international fraternal organization formed on the principles of fidelity and brotherly love. The Tufts Chapter was organized in 1953 and has been active in state and local activities since its beginning, having officers on the State, Jurisdictional, and University Priory Suites. It sponsors such activities as the DeMolay Moonlight Cruise last year. This year, the Tufts Chapter is the host for the Mass Westerly Jurisdictional Conclave which brings boys, the majority of whom are freshmen, from the entire state to Tufts Campus for a weekend.

CAMERA CLUB

This year the camera club held several supper meetings and discussions. Various photography enthusiasts have been doing portrait work, while other interests have included motion picture study and titling, scenery studies with color slides, and black and white processing. The darkroom has been put to good use by club members, and the club is hoping to extend its activities next year with sufficient interest.

CLASSICS CLUB

The Classics Club is one of the newest clubs on Hill, having been founded last year. The club is open to all those interested in the classics. Dr. Van Johnson, Chairman of the Department and Mr. Wm. Harry Kagdis serve as advisors. This year the group has seen slides of Greece and the Near East and heard Dean Ashton speak on Biblical Archaeology.

In the spring of 1956, the Jackson Judiciary Council was organized as a separate branch of the Jackson student government. This revision provided for class representation, a smaller judicial body, and a separate Board of Appeal consisting of both faculty and student members. Since the time of this revision, the Council has improved organizational methods to a great extent.

THE LUIGI CLUB

The Luigi Club is made up of some sixty members, all residents of East Hall. The Club creates a kind of unity among the residents of East, thus causing a greater interest in the social and academic affairs of the campus. The group is well known for its participation in the events of the college community and has established itself as one of the main traditions here at Tufts.

VARSAITY CLUB

The Varsity Club was established in 1945 to create a scholarship for deserving athletes. Since then, the Club has taken charge of refreshment concessions for all campus activities. Their famous announcements at the football games became a looked-for part of the afternoon. This fall the Club held the annual Sports Dance where they awarded trophies to the Most Valuable Players in major sports and crowned Fanny Sveningsen as their queen. The alumni basketball game, a picnic, and a jazz concert were among some of their other activities.

JACKSON ALL-AROUND CLUB

The Jackson All-Around Club is primarily a social organization. During Freshman Orientation Week, it sponsors a breakfast and a tour of Boston. Its two major projects are the All Jackson Dinner and the Spring Formal, which this year has Polynesia as a theme. The Club is also active in collecting clothing for Poland and the under privileged areas of Boston.

The Mayor's Council started off September, 1956, with a bang as they sponsored the all freshman talent night during Orientation Week. This was followed by the Mayor's Skit Night including some of the new-founded freshman talent and "that famous dance."

Pep rallies, bonfires, and car caravans kept up the spirit of the football season and the mock basketball game, staged by the Council and the cheerleaders between periods of the Tufts-Harvard varsity basketball game, was a big success. Winter Carnival and the '57 Mayoralty Ball topped off a great year.

I don't know if you know Joe. Do you know Joe?

Well, I do, and even if there's nothing going on,

And you'd think nobody had to have an idea about that,

Why, Joe is the type guy who always has an idea.

Take sports, I mean basketball, hockey, football,

Or track-running, I mean like that, or any sports,

You want to hear Joe's idea?

You would think, or I

Anyway would think that with sports either you play

Or you watch it. Well, one time Joe and I watched

A football game, and he played everything but that,

And I said my idea, You either play it or watch it.

And what do you think Joe said? Well, Joe said,

Sure, the two kinds, the players, and people watching.

But there's a third kind watching them both, always,

But mostly watching the players and the guys on the field,

They don't watch the stand, they watch this third kind,

And they always know it.

What's going on here? I said.

Joe said, Yes, there's something watching the players.

It's the game. It's the perfect game, the ideal perfect

Game that never gets played or only in parts, flashes.

And another thing. The players don't watch the people

In the stands. No. It's the game in their minds.

Well, I said, Joe, you certainly have the ideas,

And you may be right, at that, I said, you may be right.

S P O R T S

The year 1956 was a banner one for football at Tufts. Not since Prof. Lewis Manly coached an undefeated team in 1934 has there been a season to equal it. It was also an impressive year as far as the statistics are concerned. The Jumbos out-pointed their opposition 238 to 92. The rushing yardage was even more phenomenal. Wells and Wright alone gained more yardage in rushing than all the opposition teams together piled up.

Wells totaled 777 yards and Wright 513 to a mere 934 for the other teams. The entire team totaled 2519 yards gained rushing. Quarterback Ralph Thompson was the outstanding passer of the year making 18 completions in 45 attempts for a total gain of 495 yards, while Wright was the outstanding pass receiver. The Class of 1957 can look back with pride on this team which brought so much distinction to Tufts.

TUFTS HAS BEST FOOTBALL SEASON IN

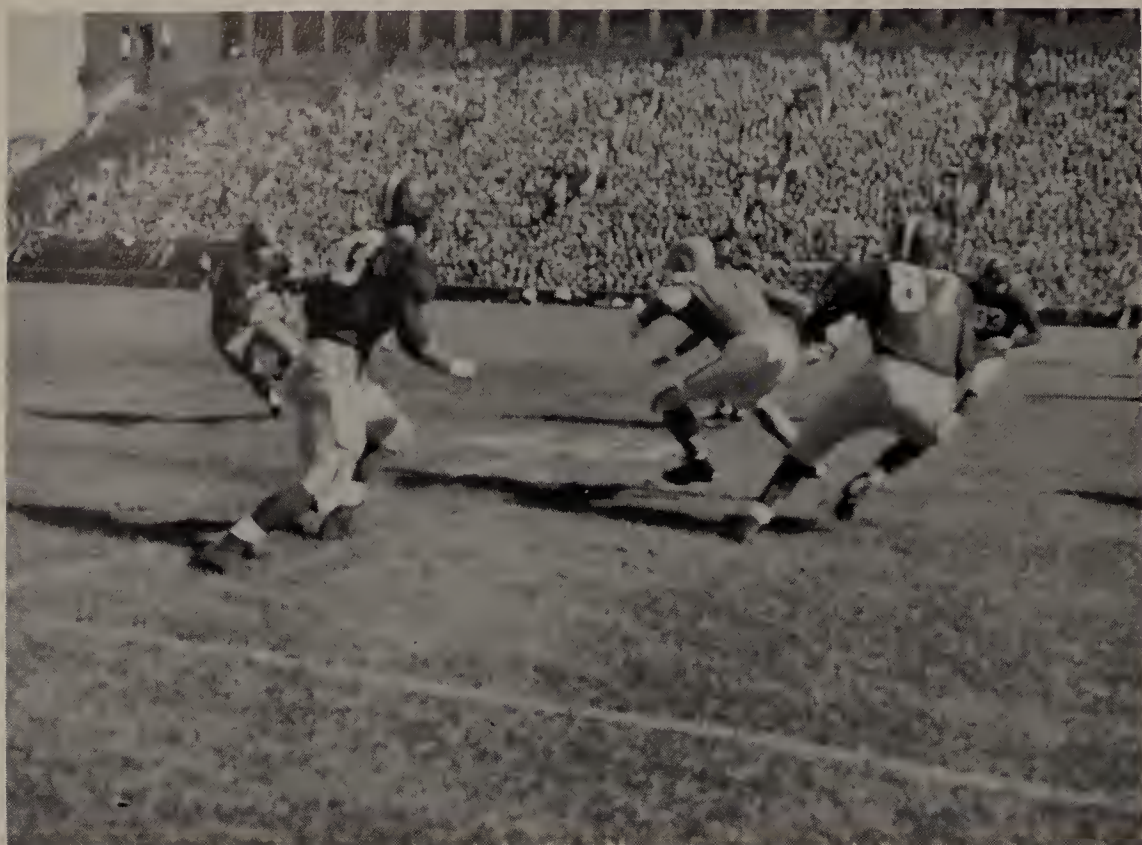

Much of the credit for the success of the Tufts football team must go to Mr. Harry Arlanson. He has continued to demonstrate the superior coaching ability that made him one of the nation's outstanding high school coaches at Weymouth, Massachusetts. Since his coming to Tufts three years ago, his teams have won seventeen games, while losing only five.

TWENTY-TWO YEARS

ARLANSON, WELLS, AND WRIGHT LEAD

The Tuftsmen opened the 1956 season with a 23-0 win over Bowdoin, although the game was not an example of their best playing. The team was nervous and was also anxiously awaiting the following week's game with Harvard.

However, the team was at its best on the week-end of October 6, when, before a crowd of 17,500 in Harvard Stadium, they scored a thrilling and unforgettable 19-13 upset over the Crimson. Tied 6-6 at the half, the Tufts team came back on the field to make a 76 yard, 14 play drive from the second half kickoff to make the score 12-6. They came on for another long touchdown march, this time of 65 yards, in the top of the last quarter, bringing the score to a 19-6 margin. Harvard then came back with 7 more points with 7½ minutes remaining in the game. As Tufts fans held their breath, the Jumbos held the ball 6 of the remaining minutes to end the game at 19-13. The whole team deserves credit for the win but outstanding among them were Ralph Thompson and Normie Wright.

Having proved their superiority, Tufts rolled on to trample an out-classed Trinity team by the lopsided score of 52-20 to the enjoyment of an overflow crowd at the Oval on Homecoming Day. Revenge was sweet for the previous eight years in which Trinity had beaten us. There was no contest at any time during the game.

JUMBOS THROUGH VICTORIOUS 6-1 SEASON

The winning streak continued by steamrolling over a supposedly strong Williams team by a score of 40-20. Williams had been undefeated before this game, but they were no match for the Tuftsmen. Dave Wells scored three touchdowns, one of them on a spectacular 99 yard run, with Lou Rigano converting four points after the touchdowns.

Hopes for an undefeated season were crushed the following week as a surprising Amherst team upset Tufts by a score of 6-0. A pass play in the first period provided the only score of the game, while a strong Lord Jeff line held the Jumbos practically motionless.

The team regained their form the next week as Normie Wright paced the attack with four touchdowns that brought about a 51-14 triumph over Rochester. The defensive play of linesmen Asiaf, Rigano, and Fisher was also a key factor in the Tufts win.

In the last game of the season, Tufts routed Upsala 53-19 in a game in which the Jumbos piled up a total of 555 yards. In their last appearance Wells and Wright scored two TD's apiece.

In post-season honors tackle George Kurker was named to the first team of the AP All-East team, while Wright received honorable mention. The same two stars were also named to the first team of the All New England eleven.

SIDELINES-1956

The 1956 golf team, under the guidance of Coach Grimshaw had an excellent year, winning seven of their nine matches this season. Captain Ed Couble led his team to close victories over Amherst, Wesleyan, W.P.I., Lowell Tech, and U. Conn. by the margin of 4 to 3. The other two victories were by the margins of 6-1 and 7-0 over Bates and Clark respectively. The only matches that the team lost were both very close ones also by the margin of 4 to 3.

SKIING

The Tufts Ski Team entered its 1957 season with a brighter outlook than it has had in years. Only one member of last year's team was graduated and four promising freshman were added. Returnees were co-captains Bill Fitch and Andy Eastman, both juniors, Bruce Hoyt, also a junior, and Ron Langlois, a senior. The ski team is a member of the New England Intercollegiate Ski Conference in competition with eleven other New England college teams. Six league meets and two invitational meets were scheduled for the 1957 season. In 1956 Tufts finished fifth in the final league standings. The success of the Tufts team is due partly to the leadership of Mr. Philip Sampson of the Psychology Department, who has been faculty advisor of the team during the past two years.

CROSS COUNTRY

Due to very strong competition and a lack of depth the 1956 Cross Country team was only able to come up with a record of four wins and four losses for the season. Six of the eight meets for the year were tri-meets in which Tufts won three times, took second place once, and came in last place twice. In the two dual meets they won against W.P.I. while losing to Northeastern. The two outstanding runners for the season were Captain Ron Swonger and Jim Powers.

S O C C E R

The 1956 soccer team, led by Captain Gerry Higgs, compiled a record of six wins, three losses, and one tie, giving Coach John Bohn his best season in eleven years as head of the soccer team. The most valuable assets of the team were an abundance of skilled players, including a strong reserve, and excellent team spirit which stimulated the desire for victory and resulted in good teamwork.

The baseball team in its 1956 season posted a winning record for the new coach Mr. William Kearns. Out of the eighteen games that the team played, they won ten. The Jumbos were a very strong hitting team. They were not shut out in any of their games, while they piled up a total of 124 runs, compared to a total of 96 for the opposition. The toughest competition for the year was in the games against B.C. and Harvard, who defeated the Brown and Blue team twice each, by very close margins.

OUTDOOR TRACK

The 1956 season was an excellent one for the outdoor track team, with the exception of one loss, a close one to Rhode Island in a quad meet. All the other victories were by top-heavy scores on the Tufts side. In the big meets, the Tuftsmen took first place in the Eastern ICAA meet, second in New England ICAA meet.

L A C R O S S E

The 1956 Lacrosse season was one of ups and downs. Tufts was the winner in the opening game against a strong Williams team. Continuing this strong start, the Tufts team then defeated teams from the University of Massachusetts, Middlebury, Trinity, Holy Cross, and Worcester Polytechnical Institute. However, a run of bad luck resulted in losses to Harvard, M. I. T., New Hampshire, Amherst, and Boston Lacrosse Club, leaving the team with a seasonal record of six wins and five losses. Co-captains George Knightly and Tom Markham were standouts all season, and were named to the All New England second team. Gardner Spungin and Dick Hayes, co-captains of the 1957 team were also outstanding performers. The team enters the 1957 season with Tim Ring continuing his excellent coaching.

INDOOR TRACK

Co-captains Paul Halberg and Bruce Moore led the 1957 indoor track team under the perennial guidance of "Ding" Dussault. Only two meets have been held at this writing with Tufts defeating Northeastern and losing a close meet with Bates. There are two other meets in the season, against New Hampshire and Brown.

The team established a new Tufts record in the two mile relay at the B.A.A. meet, by finishing in a time of 7 minutes 58 seconds to win the event.

Outstanding men of the team were Gavoor in the relay and the 600, Ince in the 600, Pistonie in the 1000, and Halberg in the mile.

B A S K E T

The basketball squad won its first game of the year against Boston College by a score of 61-54, after having lost their first four games to Amherst, U. Mass., Harvard, and Clark. However this was followed by losses to Brandeis and Wesleyan.

The next three games were victories for the Tuftsmen against Trinity, Northeastern, and Worcester Tech.

BALL

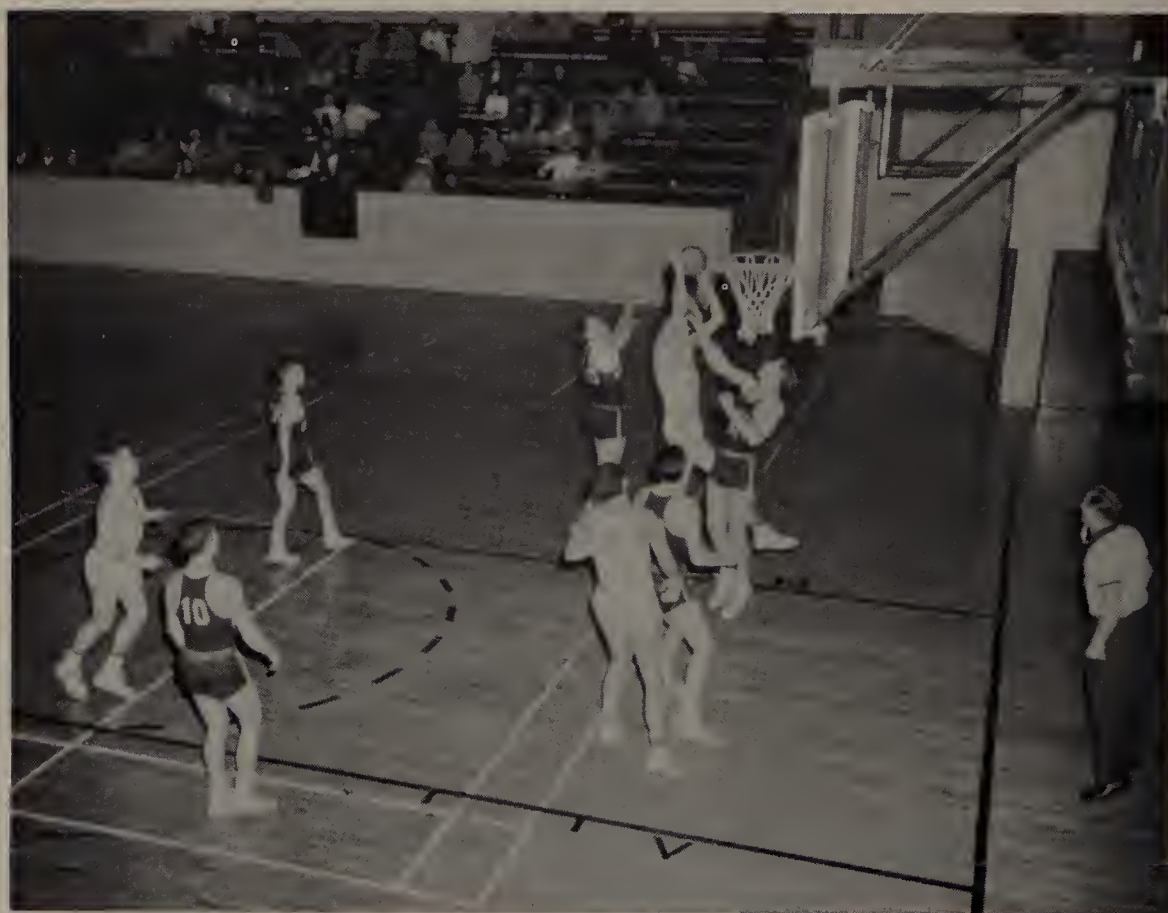

Losses to Brown, Boston University, and St. Anselm's followed. A win over Bates completed the season as of this writing with games remaining against Bowdoin, Springfield, M.I.T., and Buffalo.

Outstanding scorers for Coach "Woody" Grimshaw were Captain Bert Muench and Phil Shaw, while Pete Stanley was the best defenseman for the season.

The swimmers had a poor season in 1957 in spite of Larry Palmer's efforts. As of this printing, the team had won only one match against a weak W.P.I. team. They lost to Trinity, M.I.T., Wesleyan, U. Mass. and the prospects against the four remaining teams on the schedule were not any better. The remaining matches were against Brown, Holy Cross, Bowdoin, and Coast Guard. Co-captains Pete Mangels and Sam Ina deserve a lot of credit for keeping the spirits of the team high in spite of the setbacks.

First Row: C. Cinto, J. Stamegna, D. Phalen, D. Wilson, L. Mackey, L. Spang.

Second Row: Co-captains T. Nolan and A. Conley, G. Murphy, W. Hamilton, R. Kelley, C. Dallin, V. Lang.

H O C K E Y

The twelve games played so far by the 1957 Hockey Team show them to be one of the most promising teams in New England. In sharp contrast to last year's poor showing of only five wins out of seventeen games played, this year's team has already piled up eight wins as against only five losses, with a good chance of winning their last four against U. Mass, Amherst, Harvard, and M.I.T. Tufts defeated Bowdoin twice, New Hampshire, Princeton, Army, Williams, Holy Cross, and Colby, while losing to Boston College, Boston University, Brown, and Northeastern.

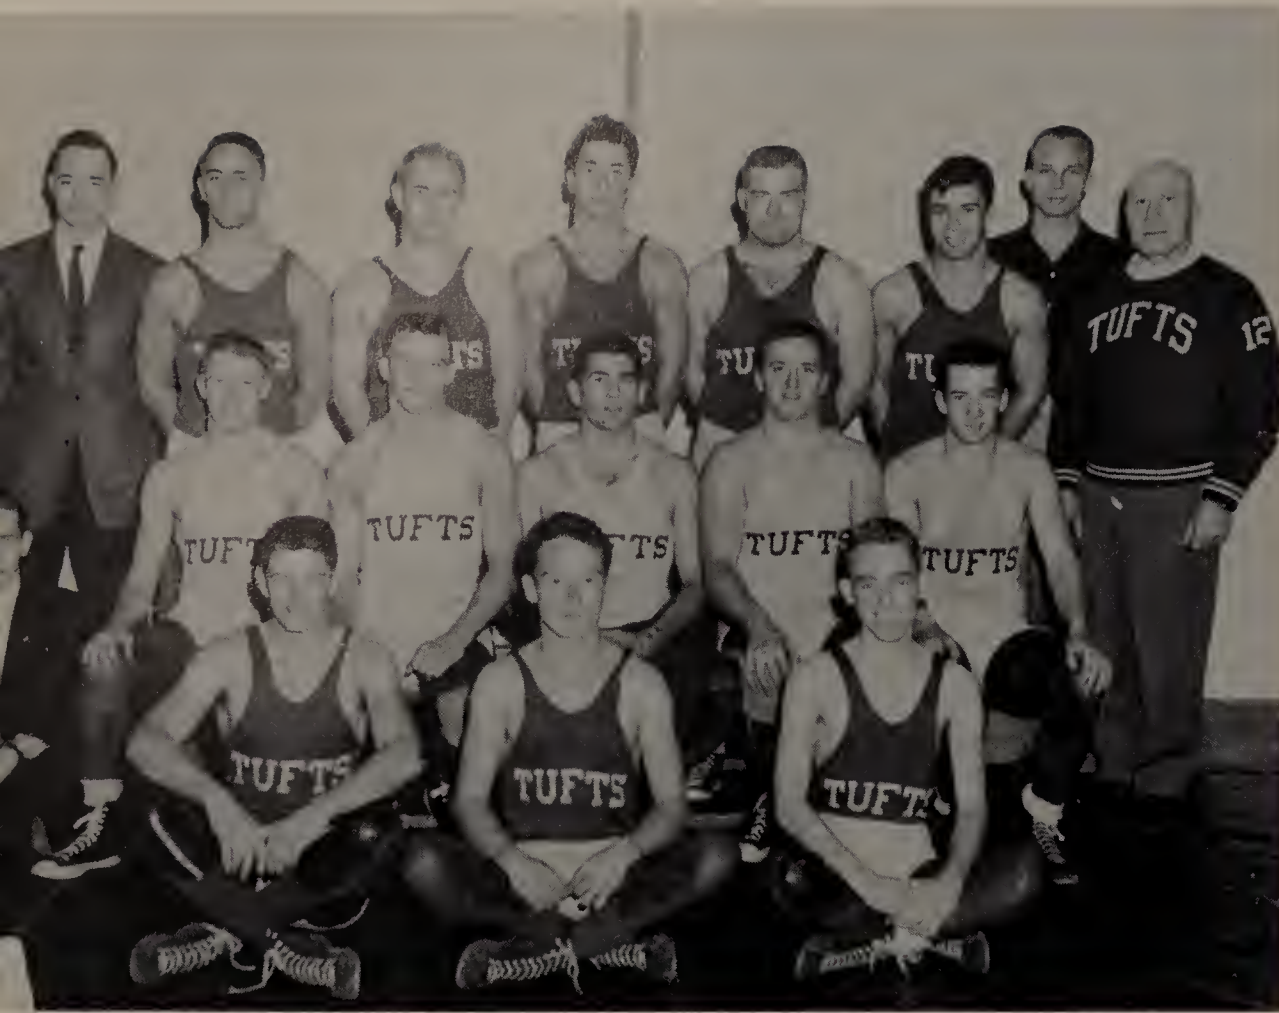

Sparked by Co-captains Tom Nolan and Art Conley, and coached this year by Charles Arthur, the Jumbo pucksters had a season that Tufts can be very proud of.

WRESTLING

Returning lettermen Kean, Fiske, Higgs, Oliveira, and Currant provided the nucleus of a strong team for Coach Ruggeri. Although only five of the eight matches for the 1957 season are completed as of the deadline for Jumbo Book, the Tufts Matmen have won three of them against M.I.T., Amherst, and Boston University. They lost to Williams and Wesleyan, mainly because of forfeits in the lightweight classes. Outstanding members of the team were Higgs, Oliveira, and Kean in the 167 lb., 177 lb., and the unlimited classes respectively.

FIELD HOCKEY

The 1956 field hockey team began practice in September under Miss Beedem's instruction. The team was composed mainly of underclassmen, including forwards Anne Alexander, Sally Curran, Alice Depew, Joanna Cornelius, Connie Gorenflo, and Jane Davenport, and backs Sandy Bromer, Addy Cates, Sue Gross, and Sheila Gallivan.

On the schedule were games with Pembroke, Radcliffe, and Marblehead, which produced a 1 and 2 won-lost record.

MODERN DANCE

Under the new leadership of Mrs. Arthur Eschenlauer, the Modern Dance Club increased to a membership of twenty. The group expanded also by attending a symposium at Brandeis and holding one at Tufts with Radcliffe and Pembroke in attendance.

In April the club held its most successful program which included dances ranging from modern callipso to ancient ritual dances. With its new leader and enthusiastic membership the group promises to be even more "professional" next year.

The 1956 badminton team ended the season with a 2-1 record. This year Miss Wright coached the squad, which consisted of several returning varsity players, Gail Barton, Cathy Climenko, Elaine Jevely, Ann Monier, Valerie Nichols, and Audrey Tesch. With additional support from Liz Bernhard, Natalie Lavenburg, Carol Perry and Ruth White, the team enjoyed another successful season against Pembroke and Radcliffe.

First Row: A. Monier, R. White, C. Perry, U. Nand, A. Alexander, L. Stockton.

Second Row: A. Tesch, D. Procter, G. Barton, N. Lavenburg, J. Davenport, N. Bellows, R. Nelson.

ARCHERY

The 1956 archery team showed a great deal of promise but had little chance to prove themselves because the tri-meet with Pembroke and Radcliffe was cancelled due to bad weather. Vida Davis captured the cup for high scorer in the intra-school meet and accepted the award at the JAA banquet in May. This spring the team looks forward to competing against Pembroke and Radcliffe.

M A R L I N S

Thursday evenings at Hamilton Pool brought together forty girls who practiced synchronized swimming and stunts. Miss Gertrude Goss directed the Marlins, whose officers were Jackie van de Kamp, Barbara Clark, Bobsy Van Heertun, Jean Brokenshire, and Nancy Griffiths.

The Bouve Dolphins joined the Jackson Marlins in the spring in a successful show with a "newspaper" theme, in which the spectators enjoyed seeing a cheerful newspaper.

S W I M M I N G

Four afternoons a week the Hamilton Pool witnessed the hard practices of a group of Jackson bathing beauties under the coaching of Miss Goss. This was the swimming team preparing for the two triangular meets with Pembroke and Radcliffe.

Veterans on the team were Mike DeLuca, Judy Jones, and Jackie van de Kamp, while new faces included Koby Taylor and Adela Garcia.

Although handicapped by rainy weather, the 1956 softball team enjoyed a successful season. The big game of the season came when the team journeyed to Pembroke College in Providence. Although the outcome of the game was not the best, the girls had a good practice and enjoyed Pembroke. Composed mostly of sophomores and juniors, the steadily improving team should really shine next year.

SOFTBALL

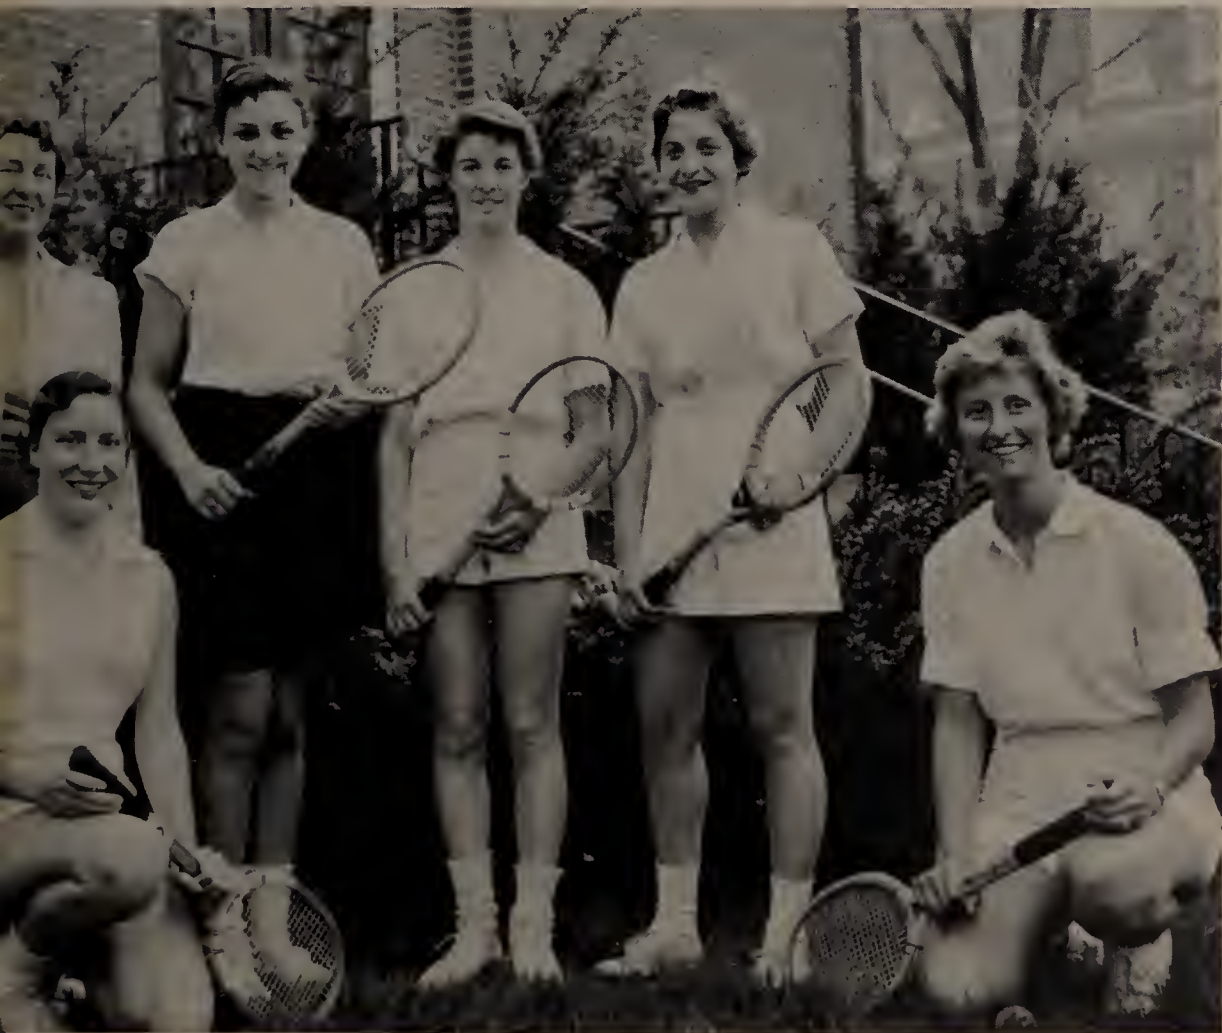

First Row: J. Cornelius, A. Alexander, F. Reynolds, G. Raynesford, S. Gallivan.

Third Row: C. Skellett, D. Bowen.

First Row: J. Fournier, I. Jeppesen.

Second Row: Miss Beedem, J. Bowdring, S. Gross, C. Sudalter.

TENNIS

The Jackson tennis team practiced hard last year. Unfortunately due to rain, most of the matches were cancelled. However they did manage to have matches against Radcliffe and Pembroke. This year some new additions such as Natalie Bellows and Sandy Bromer greatly helped the old members Carol Sudalter, Jo Fournier, and Sue Gross.

They say there's never a time
All the rest of your life
When you know so many people
By sight and by their name,
People to say hello to.

When the campus was crazy
With mayoralty costumes,
When the air in front of Miner
Was overflowed with voices
Singing in a spring evening,
I was a thousand people,
And many times at big dances
I was the music, everyone,
In it and looking at it.

It's hard to be in love
With one, but it's not a thousand
Times harder to love a thousand,
And that's what it seemed like,
Sometimes, those times,
They say never come again,
When you know so many
People to say hello to.

ACTIVITIES

“Harvard Weekend” . . . I. D. C. Dance

What we now remember as “The Harvard Weekend” was ushered in by the I.D.C. Dance held at Cousens Gymnasium. The high point of the weekend’s festivities was the Tufts-Harvard game at Cambridge. Fans rooting for Jumbo included students, alumni, and two Mephistophelean characters who mingled with the cheerleaders and the Mayor’s Council on the sidelines. The defeat of Harvard inspired an unprecedented series of celebrations on The Hill.

The gloom of a rainy Sunday failed to depress the spirits of those who gorged themselves at the clambake. From reports brought back from the North Shore, the dampness was driven out by a continuing enthusiasm for Jumbo’s victory.

Homecoming . . .

Christmas Sing

Magnificent fall weather was the background for Homecoming weekend. A one-sided score over Trinity was spirited by a zany Mayor's Council clowning for the packed stands. Original displays by fraternity houses and dormitories greeted returning alumni. Hodgdon Hall and the Kippie House created the prize displays, forecasting Tufts' Saturday afternoon victory.

The Tufts campus was ablaze with autumn colors, and the first home football weekend of the season promised future success for the Jumbos.

One of Tufts' oldest traditions, Christmas Sing, this year incorporated the University Band, soloist Kate Hurney, and the Pan-Hell carolers. Those chosen as winners were Hodgdon Wing B and the Luigi Club.

WINTER CARNIVAL

Four Year Record: Snowless Winter Carnival

Tufts seniors, who have never seen snow at Winter Carnival, will remember their last big winter weekend for jazz, Eloise, and a two-band dance.

Friday's skits, at echoing Cousens gym, saw B. S. O. T. and Zeta Psi the winners of the skits; the performances of Shakespearean characters and cavemen were topped by a lively and dramatic rendition of "busy, busy, busy Eloise" and other songs by a new male quartet calling itself the "Peddlers."

The traditional Saturday "Cage Carnival" took place at the gym, but the highlight of the weekend was the unveiling of the professionally-designed dance decoration, "Wind Song," on Saturday night. Inez Diaz was voted queen of the Carnival by couples' casting ballots at the door of Cousens as they arrived. The Mayor's Council and George Deemys, sponsors of the weekend, provided two bands, Freddie Sateriale and Bob Bachelder, for the large crowd. The noise got louder on Sunday afternoon, with a swingin' combo from Williams jazzing at a packed Kursaal.

The class of 1957 hereby bequeaths a snow-making machine to Tufts University.

Long known as Junior Weekend, the renamed Ivy Weekend was made an all-college function which started with Friday's Jazz concert at Cousens.

At Saturday's Academic Honors, awards were given and new class and student council officers were installed. The first George S. Miller Award for citizenship was made, commemorating the retirement of "Mr. Tufts", Chairman of the Department of Government and devoted citizen and leader of the Tufts community.

A new feature of the weekend was a "dinner performance" of John Van Druten's play The Druid Circle: theater-goers were fed and entertained before adjourning to Cousens for the Ivy Dance. Sadie Morrill, chosen queen of the dance, was presented her crown by the president of the sponsoring Junior Class, Nicky Fee.

MAYORALTY COMES, AND IT'S

SPRING AGAIN

Until the returns were in, it was anyone's race—George "Nasty Nick" Deemys or Tom "Nero" Denney. Both candidates and their inventive campaign managers staged skits, poster parties and parades to win the support of the enthusiastic student body. Roman chariots, reinforced by a host of vestal virgins, were unable to compete with Nasty Nick's organized gangland guys and dolls, and the unforgettable "Man With The Golden Arm" dance.

After the expending of immense vats of paint, warehouse loads of poster paper, and cords of wood to construct machines of war and gangland hideaways, a record vote turned out to elect Tufts' new mayor, Nasty Nick. The announcement of his election was made at the Mayoralty Ball, prompting an overflow of celebrators at the Kippie Cave.

“FINAL FLING”

Pan-Hellenic Council and the five sororities sponsored their annual dance, appropriately named “Final Fling”, on the Saturday before Mid-Year exams. As an added attraction, five “kings” were nominated, and Ed Kelly (Delta Zeta) was crowned by Dean Jeffers. Cousen’s Gym was gaily decorated, as always, and the music was supplied by Bob Adams and his orchestra.

... “and one for the seniors, too”

Despite adverse conditions, (finals had begun), the Seniors held a very successful annual Mid-Winter Dance on January 19 in the Georgian Room of the Hotel Statler. Freddy Sateriale and his orchestra featured both good music and bright plaid jackets. Class President Ed Kelly took the opportunity to inform those there that they would be expected to vote for their choice of entertainment for Senior Week — Cruise or Picnic.

My style is my face. Some professor said in class
And I put it in my notebook, that somebody once said,
My style is my face, don't take it away from me,
It may not be much, but it's mine, my face
is my style.

I was looking at last year's picture of the house.
All those faces, and I could name every one.
I knew them.
But the year before that I couldn't, and before that.
They were just rows of faces, all looking alike.

I want to look at the faces of these brothers
I know
Till I never forget them. I want to tell myself now
That each one has style, he has his own face,
no one else
Has the face of his father partly and his mother made him.

Never under-estimate the power of a woman,
it says,
In some ad, and I learned that's very true,
too,
But never under-estimate anybody. I also learned that.
Everybody is somebody unique, with style,
and a face.

What is A.T.O.? To a casual observer, it may be merely an impressive brick house at the end of Professors Row.

But to those who know A.T.O., it is much more. It's the scene of some of the biggest blasts on campus . . . It's month-long "work weeks" . . . It's funeral parlor atmosphere of the unique Black Room . . . It's help week instead of hell week . . . It's midnight cannon practice by the Tau Artillery . . . It's one suave party a year to impress the girls . . . It's "gulp" and Nick has downed another beer . . . It's sterling voices harmonizing to win Christmas Sing . . . It's the home of King Kelly . . . It's Ken looking for a major . . . It's Bob Shea and his 10 Commandments as the tops in jazz . . . It's the Greek "detekative" and his many "commitaments" . . . It's the charm of ram parties . . . It's the mailing address for the Casanova of Cazenovia College . . . It's Dave and "tests have proven" . . . It's waking up to find the front door missing . . .

THETA DELTA CHI

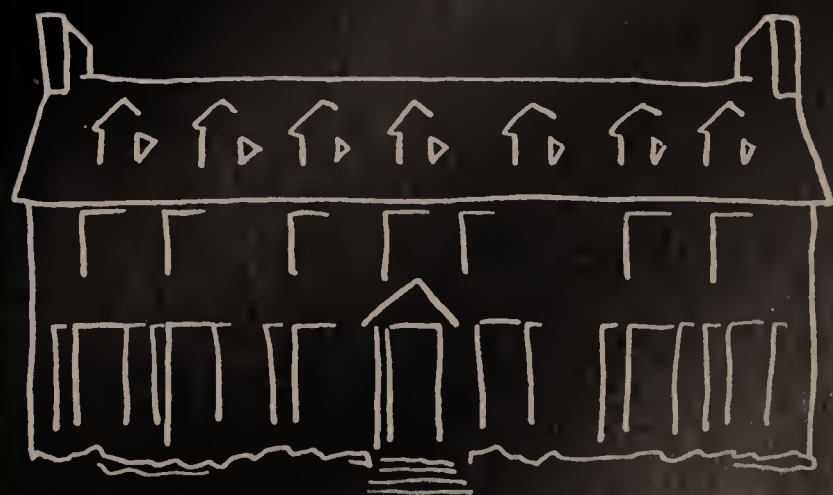

The year '56-'57 will long remain as one of the brightest at Theta Delta Chi. Most significantly it marked the 100th year of continuous existence on the Tufts campus and this was roundly celebrated with a Homecoming Centennial in October. The Fall witnessed pleasant cocktail parties, buffet suppers and incomparable Saturday night get-togethers. Athletically the Thete house proved its prowess both collectively and with events such as the "Fox track meet." Someone dusted off the bookcase and the old scholastic standing took a rise. As campus citizens, many Thetes took Hill positions — heading the IFC, publications, the Yacht Club. Graduate relations had a rebirth making not only a stronger fraternity, but a physically better one — new furniture, a complete paint job. In all, '56-'57 saw Theta Delta Chi strengthen its grasp on a bright and eventful "second century."

Food for thought! Since we can't possibly remember here the many wonderful things that happened to us this first year of our life, we'll just recall a few; the rest of the memories will come crowding back.

First sight of the new room, uncrating the furniture . . . Hinda's water color really adds to the decor . . . thanks to the BX's our piano finally made it, leaving a real "hall mark" in our lives . . . the dusty atmosphere and pledges with handkerchiefs over their faces sanding away . . . our own pink elephant . . . a new D Z tradition: selling brownies at the football games . . . be sure in the future to notice Joan's engagement ring . . . we're "all wet" dunking for those Halloween apples . . . the punch bowl looked best filled with the Christmas grab bag gifts . . . carolling that night: quality not quantity is what counts . . . that torturous pledge exam: hope you made it!! . . . are you sure, Betty, whether it's "goof" or "good"? . . . that green and gold interior at the Medford Home for the Aged, the ice cream and cookies, who was the party for, anyway? . . . clowns and popcorn, sawdust and sherbet punch: our pledge party . . . Debbie's the best cowardly lion on campus . . . the villain, the heroine, the Old West melodrama . . . that skit a la Richardson was pretty mellow too . . . those pink D Z letters on the green sweatshirts, long awaited but still shocking . . . even more shocking—our new banner . . . stretching that pink and green ribbon at pledging . . . knock, knock!! . . . Ed Kelly: our king at Pan Hell, a real winner . . . Irene: the only silver polisher with a B.S. degree . . .

"You know where you can go if you need money" eh, Nancy? . . . one thing in the room we can always count on working: the radiators . . . hats off to Patty Bourque . . . She's done wonders with D Z Lamps . . . the skit at Winter Carnival . . . our pledge formal . . . then commencement . . . farewell and thanks to Carol and the rest of our hard working seniors . . . the end of a wonderful year.

But together, closer and more enthusiastic, sisters of Delta Zeta looking forward to the year to come.

TUFTS CLUB DIRECTORY

NOTE TO GRADUATES

Graduation from Tufts University can be for the graduate the commencement of a long and pleasant association with the school from which he received his education. By joining one of the many alumni clubs scattered throughout the country, he will be able to cultivate his affection for Tufts and fulfill his wish to remain a part of it. Below is a list of these clubs and the names and addresses of the secretaries. The graduate is assured of a most cordial welcome at the meetings of any one of them. News about them is carried regularly in the Alumni Review.

Please aid the Alumni Office in keeping its files up-to-date by notifying it promptly of any changes of address. Any information or inquiries concerning alumni and their activities may be obtained by addressing Fred P. Nickless, Jr., Alumni Secretary, Medford 55, Massachusetts.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

As the final deadline comes up for a yearbook and the work gets more intense, there are always a handful of people who work harder than even they had realized they would. During the last week, four people worked this way: Kevin Mullin, Sheila Gallivan, Tom Devlin, and a girl named Nancy McAdam who did more for this book in the space of a week than can be adequately expressed. She wrote, re-wrote, typed, organized, in short did everything she could — including using up two of her three 12:15's, and that's "about as fur as you c'n go".

The photography of Herb Franck and George Russo deserves special mention. Those shots at the Kursaal and Hy's, and that night shot of the chapel helped make "Remembering Tufts" what we hoped it would be.

A quick thank you to Don Willson, his typewriter (sans which we would never have made the deadline) and his sense of humor (no, Don, I will not let you burn down the Pub—what would my business manager say?). Also to the kind ladies of the Kursaal who kept us going on into the late evening hours.

To Mr. Donald Abbott and to his secretary, thanks for all help, and that quick typing job. To our friends who excused us when we seemed to ignore them, and to our teachers, who just excused us. And finally to Doug Dunn, Bob Vantine, and Elinor Loomis, from Delmar, our thanks for the help they gave.

The Business Staff wishes to express its appreciation for the advertising time given by WTCR in the course of its sales campaign.
